

THE WEATHER FOR KENTUCKY—Tuesday, probably fair.

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN

WATCH THE DATE
After your name, renew promptly, and not miss a number. The Postal regulations require subscriptions to be paid in advance.

VOL. XXXVII.

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, APRIL 25, 1916.

No. 50

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Senate is still impeaching Williams at $500 a day. Is there any possible way to impeach the Senate?

Yesterday was as near to a perfect day as is possible in the glorious climate of Kentucky, in early spring-time.

Saturday's installment of "The Mary Page" serial is run again today, to correct an error in the make-up of the page.

A Stockholm dispatch says a bomb was dropped perilously close to the Czar a few days ago, while he was reviewing troops.

If the Americans cannot find the bandits who attacked Columbus, they might at least find those who fired upon them at Parral.

Carranza has been notified that Americans will stay in Mexico until he can restore order. If he doesn't like it he can lump it.

Now that Henry Ford has carried two states over two Senators, the Republicans have ceased to ridicule his presidential aspirations.

Kentucky Progressives are expressing the hope that Roosevelt will be the joint nominee of both Republicans and Progressives.

Six of the 8 aeroplanes used in Mexico have been destroyed as junk. An aeroplane that will not fly, is not of much use in war times.

Bob Thomas is said to have winked at some suffragettes—a whole bunch of them at once—and called them "girls." And not a one of them got mad.

Germany's reply to the American ultimatum will be received by Saturday, but Ambassador Gerard is expected to be able to forecast its contents by the middle of the week.

In April 1846, General Ampudia ordered Gen. Zachary Taylor to get out of territory claimed by Mexico. Old "Rough and Ready" refused to go and at Palo Alto early in May his 2,000 soldiers whipped 6,000 Mexicans.

President Wilson has nominated State Senator Robt. F. Wagner as postmaster of New York, who says he appreciates offer but cannot accept the honor. The President also named Dixon C. Williams, a former Tennessean, as postmaster of Chicago, who will accept.

A French officer in a captive balloon was set adrift when a shell severed the cable. The balloon rose 11,000 feet, when the officer saved himself by a parachute descent, taking 20 minutes. He landed in 100 yards of the German lines, but escaped.

Russia has not only "come back" in the East, but has surprised the world by embarking a great army from the ice-locked port of Arcangel and sending it on a wide detour to the Mediterranean port of Marseilles, France. Its arrival was the first intimation of its coming.

Japanese women, unlike American women, take a hand in fashioning their own clothes. A number of them headed by Mrs. Iriwasa, of Tokio, have started a movement to remodel the kimono, which they say is not suitable for practical purposes and is too expensive. Prizes have been offered for the best models. They want models adapted to the uses of men as well as women.

In Sunday's Courier Journal Marse Henry Watterson proves to his own satisfaction at least that Christopher Marlowe wrote all of Shakespeare's plays and sent them to Francis Bacon, who published them over the name of Shakespeare, an illiterate actor, because he didn't care to use his own name in connection with the theatre. It makes a plausible story.

TROOPS STILL TO REMAIN

Carranza Must First Show Ability to Crush Villistas and Protect the Border.

WILL REDISPOSE FORCES

Gen. Funston Will Group U. S. Soldiers to Better Protect Them and Boundary.

Washington, April 24.—Behind the formal announcement that President Wilson had approved a plan for redispotion of the American troops in Mexico, there was a plain intimation that the Washington government had determined to maintain a military status quo beyond the border until the Mexican de facto government has demonstrated its ability to capture or crush Villa and his adherents and prevent repetitions of the Columbus raid. In the interim, it is understood, the American troops will be so placed as to safeguard the border towns by virtually policing the area south of the line, where Gen. Carranza has been heretofore unable to check bandit operations.

Secretary Baker announced the administration's decision as follows:

"Gen. Funston has recommended a redispotion of the forces in Mexico for the purpose of recuperation and pending opportunities for further cooperation with the forces of the de facto government of Mexico.

The recommendation has been approved and its execution left to his discretion."

INDICATES NO WITHDRAWAL.

Later the secretary dictated the following:

"The statement I have made indicates nothing whatever on the subject of when the American troops will be withdrawn from Mexico. The whole subject of withdrawal of the forces is under arrangements and negotiations by the state department."

PROTECTION TO AMERICANS.

The new military plan leaves the pursuit of Villa at a standstill, but frees Gen. Funston's hands to make the position of the forces in Mexico secure by grouping them in posts of such strength as to protect them from attack by irresponsible elements of the de facto government's forces. It will also serve as a plain warning to Gen. Carranza that he must bend every effort toward securing complete control of the territory south of the most southerly advance of the Americans in order to have the troops recalled. It is possible that, to avoid the possibility of clashes such as that at Parral, the new American bases will be established at points somewhat north of the present most advanced position. There is little indication of anti-American feeling, it has been reported, in territory now within the spread of the American lines.

Practically all of President Wilson's closest advisers have urged that the troops be kept in Mexico, at least until there are reasonable grounds for believing that there will be no more uprisings along the border.

SUITS IN TRIGG.

W. R. Dorris & Co., tobacco dealers of Hopkinsville, have filed suit in the Trigg Circuit Court against E. A. Lancaster, of Trigg county, alleging breach of contract. It is charged that plaintiffs bought the crop of tobacco from Lancaster in March at a price of $5.25 a hundred, but that recently Lancaster sold about 3,400 pounds of tobacco on a loose floor in Hopkinsville, under an assumed name, and an injunction is asked to prevent his delivering the remainder of his crop of about 2,500 pounds, and damages are also asked for the part of the crop which was sold on the loose floor.

J. W. Hancock & Company of Cadiz have also filed suit against Eb Hopson, a negro, upon a similar charge.

TRAVELING MEN COMING

State Convention T. P. A. Will Meet Here Friday and Saturday.

MAKING PREPARATION

For a Big Time of Business and Pleasure Combined.

The Louisville delegation to the T. P. A. meeting Friday and Saturday, will arrive in a special train. The delegates, eighty in number, will be led by a brass band and will parade through the downtown streets on their way to the railway station and will parade here on arrival. Proposed changes in the by-laws of the State body were read and considered at the last meeting. Newly-elected officers of the post were installed. Plans for attending the national meeting to be held the week of June 5 in Lafayette, Ind., also will be discussed here.

The details of preparation were being attended to yesterday by the local committees, such as preparing badges, arranged for decorations, etc. Nearly all of the merchants will display the blue and white colors of the T. P. A.

The total attendance is expected to exceed 150.

DEATH NEAR CHURCH HILL

Mrs. John Southall Victim of a Complication of Diseases.

Mrs. Narcissus Southall, wife of Mr. John Southall, died at her home near Church Hill Friday night. She had been in declining health for some time, suffering from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Southall was about 65 years old. She had been a member of Little River Baptist church for a number of years and was held in the highest esteem by every one who knew her. The deceased was a daughter of the late Henry Carter and was reared near Bennetts-town. Her husband and eight children, three of them by a former marriage, survive. Her funeral services were held Saturday, by Rev. Stevens and the interment took place in the family burying ground, near Bennetts-town.

Peru has placed an export tax on petroleum.

DEATH OF MRS. JAS. D. HILL

One Of Hopkinsville's Best Known Women Passes Away.

Mrs. Helen Hill, wife of James D. Hill, died Saturday afternoon of pneumonia, after a week's illness. Mrs. Hill was one of Hopkinsville's prominent and widelyknown residents. The family came here from Webster county about 25 years ago and while Mr. Hill worked at his trade of a brick mason, Mrs. Hill opened a boarding house, serving meals at the popular price of 25 cents. Her business prospered and year by year she bought property and enlarged the business, always adhering to the price of $1 a day. For many years she has run a regular hotel known as the Hill House, occupying four former residences adjacent to each other near the L. & N. depot on Ninth street. The fame of her fare was known far and wide and many traveling men were her regular patrons. She served meals from 5 a. m. till late at night, accommodating the hours to the train arrivals and departures. She was a woman of wonderful energy, strong will and a command of language that met all emergencies. She gave her personal attention to every detail of her business from serving the meals to collecting the bills. Her unerring judgment and business sagacity seldom allowed her to be imposed upon and she did a cash business with hardly ever a bad debt. She bought her own supplies, selecting her meats, vegetables, etc. with an iron-clad rule to have none but the best, always paying spot cash. Her hotel was a great stopping place for railroad men and many country people were her regular patrons. She will be greatly missed.

She leaves a handsome estate and is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. N. S. West, who assisted her in her business, and Mrs. Maggie Jenkins, of Texas. She was a member of the Christian church.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. N. Jessup, at the residence. The interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

KILLED AT GUTHRIE.

Guthrie, Ky., April 24.—Dr. Pomp Payne, one of Guthrie's oldest citizens, was instantly killed at a railroad crossing here. The accident occurred on the Memphis line after some empty cars had been cut loose at the coal chute.

Dye Stuffs Coming.

The German Government has agreed to permit the exportation to the United States of 15,000 tons of dyestuffs, lack of which has seriously affected American textile manufacturers.

FOSTER BEATEN BY SINGLE VOTE

Close Finish In The Race For President of The K. E. A.

POPULARITY ATTESTED

Home Man's Friends Here Didn't Know He Was a Candidate.

SUPERINTENDENT L. E. FOSTER

Louisville, Ky., April 24.—Superintendent J. H. Bentley, of Paducah, was elected president of the Kentucky Educational Association Friday night over Superintendent L. E. Foster, of Christian county, by a vote of 161 to 160. The race was the closest in the history of the association.

Mr. Bentley formerly was an instructor in the Louisville Male High School, having occupied the chair of Latin for two years, beginning in 1909. He left to become principal of the Barret Manual Training High School in Henderson, where he remained until 1914, when he became Superintendent of the Paducah schools.

Other officers were elected as follows: First vice-president, Miss Ora L. Adams, of Harrodsburg, County Superintendent of Mercer county; second vice-president, Superintendent R. Y. Maxey, of Elizabethtown; third vice-president, Superintendent W. L. Dawson, of Lagrange; treasurer, Miss Lida E. Gardner, County Superintendent of Carlisle county; directors, Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of the Western State Normal School, Bowling Green, and Superintendent J. H. Riseley, of Owensboro. Dr. Cherry having been elected, the race for the second directorship, between Mr. Riseley and Superintendent J. W. Bradner, of Ashland, was equally as close as that for president. The vote by which Mr. Riseley was elected was 64 to 63.

CONFLICTING ARE CLAIMS

Fighting on Verdun Front—French Capture German Positions.

TRENCHES CHANGE HANDS

Artillery Duels on all of the Fronts—Russians Get Set Back.

London, April 24.—Battles of heavy proportions have been in progress in all the war theaters except the Balkans. Successes for the entente allies and the Teutonic allies have varied. Four vessels—an Italian steamer, a French bark and two British steamers—are reported to have been sunk by submarines. All their crews are believed to have been saved.

On the Verdun front, where for two months the Germans and French have been almost continuously in battle, the Germans, according to an estimate of the French war office, up to April 22 had used thirty divisions, or about 600,000 men, in the fighting or in reinforcing units, which suffered heavy losses.

The Germans claim the capture of French trenches in the Verdun region southeast of Haucourt and west of Dead Man's Hill, while Paris records the taking of several German posts in the Avocourt woods. Hill 304 is again under the heavy bombardment of the Germans.

Artillery duels have everywhere featured the fighting in France and Belgium.

LOOKOUT FOR PICTORIAL ISSUE

Containing The Photographs of Nearly 100 Leading Business Men.

The Kentuckian is preparing to issue next week a pictorial edition similar to one issued two years ago, illustrated with the photographs of nearly 100 business men of Hopkinsville and the vicinity. The first insertion will show the photographs all mispheard and prizes will be offered to those who know the heads of houses well enough to put the features of each one in his own advertisement. Following the corrected insertion of the five pages of advertisements, the cuts will be added to the Kentuckian's already large collection and used to boost the business interests of the city in another series of sketches.

FLOWER DAY.

Monday, May 1st, has been designated as Flower Day. On that day the public will have an opportunity to contribute to the Associated Charities as their inclination and pocket-books may direct. Mr. T. L. Metcalfe has generously offered to contribute the flowers for the occasion. Flower Day should prove as great a success as Tag Day, it being managed in a similar manner. Young ladies will offer you a flower as you pass up the street, for which you will drop into her basket a silver offering for charity. The committee from the board of directors of the Associated Charities appointed to work out the details for Flower Day are: Mrs. V. L. Gates, Mrs. W. S. Harned and Mrs. Lucy Ellis but several other ladies have been asked to assist.

VISITING MINISTER.

In the absence of Rev. C. M. Thompson, the pastor, who is still in Nashville, Rev. Mr. McElroy, of Nashville, filled his pulpit Sunday morning and evening.

THOSE THAT HAVE-GET BY A-T- WESTON

PETITION IS FILED

Asking County Judge to Call Prohibition Election at Gracey.

A petition asking for a vote on local option in the Gracey voting precinct was filed yesterday with County Clerk Harris. The petition contains 91 names and asks that an election be called, to be held in June. A similar election was held three years ago and the wets carried it by a few votes.

There are two saloons in Gracey and outside of Hopkinsville it is the only wet spot in Christian or adjoining counties.

The petition contained the names of many colored voters as well as those of white people of both political parties.

There were no bids on the $600,000 issue of road bonds offered in Daviess county Friday, on account of the German crisis. They will be offered again later.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Published Every Other Day.

TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY MORNING, BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAMEntered at the Hopkinsville Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.Established as Hopkinsville Conservative in 1866. Succeeded by Hopkinsville Democrat 1876. Purchased as the South Kentuckian 1879 to 1930.

FIFTY-FIRST YEAR.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

ONE YEAR.....	$2.00
SIX MONTHS.....	1.00
THREE MONTHS.....	.50
SINGLE COPIES.....	5c

advertising: Rates on Application 212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

TUESDAY, APRIL 25

Union county's sale of $450,000 of bond bonds is advertised for May 23.

American military authorities detailed to investigate the report that the body recently disinterred at San Francisco Borja was that of Francisco Villa, reported they were unable to obtain confirmation.

Yzaac Vandenberg, a prominent Baltimore man, shot and killed himself in a New York hotel. We are not surprised that a man would want to kill himself who spelled Isaac with a Y and a Z.

Scattered returns received from Montana's presidential primary showed that President Wilson polled more votes than all of his republican opponents together. Col. Roosevelt's name was written on the ballot by about one-fourth of the republican voters.

The cheese market is gaining strength every day. Limberger has advanced 100 per cent. Edam worth $7.50 two years ago is now $16.
Rougefort has advanced from 30 to 38 cents. American cheese is now being exported in great quantities.
The English army consumes 270 tons daily.

Complete returns from thirty-seven counties out of ninety-three in Nebraska gave Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa a slight lead over Henry Ford of Detroit for the republican presidential nomination at the Nebraska preferential primaries held last Tuesday. William J. Bryan was defeated for delegate at large to the democratic national convention.

Mrs. Howard Gould is in Peking for the purpose of establishing a school for Chinese girls in which the Montessori method will be used. Mrs.
Gould recently had an interview with the minister of education, and is cooperating with a number of missionaries in educational work. She will finance the new school, which will serve as a model for Chinese teachers.

Estimates made public by Secretary Daniels show that between 550 and 600 midshipmen, the largest class ever admitted in any single year, will enter the 1916 class at Annapolis in June. Examinations for admission closed April 20, 1,797 candidates having competed for admission. The extraordinary class is the result of the recent act of congress, virtually doubling the membership of the academy.

A man giving the name of Edward J. Quigley, having in his possession all the $400,000 of securities stolen on a ferryboat at New York on Feb. 26, was arrested in Baltimore Friday.
Quigley said that the suitcase had been left on the train by a man and woman who got off at Philadelphia and he took it.
This was all that he would say after two hours' sweating in the federal office here. He said he was on his way to New Orleans from New York.

John Harrison Surratt, last survivor of the corps of alleged conspirators tried for implication in the plot to assassinate Abraham Lincoln, died in Baltimore April 21, aged 72 years.
Mr. Surratt retired as general freight agent of the Baltimore Steam Packet company recently. In the civil war, he served in the confederate secret service. When he heard that a warrant had been issued for him he fled from New York to Canada, and then to Europe, Egypt and South America. He was acquitted after being brought back for trial and came to Baltimore.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Hopkinsville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney pills. Residents of this vicinity who so testified years ago, now say the results were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Hopkinsville kidney sufferers.

W. T. Fox, grocer, Elkton, Ky., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills when suffering from kidney trouble and their good work astonished me.
The pains in my back left immediately, my kidneys were strengthened and I felt better in every way."

A PERMANENT CURE.

Over three years later, Mr. Fox said: "I haven't had occasion to use any kidney medicine since Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cured me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fox has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Preferred Locals

Good pasturage for a few cows.

W. T. TANDY.

BOARDERS WANTED—By Mrs.
Geo. F. Shelton, East 21st street.

Smithson Water delivered Tuesdays and Saturdays. Phone C33 1.
Advertisement.

See J. H. Dagg for contracting building and general repair work of all kinds. Phone 476.
Advertisement.

Constipation causes headache, indigestion, dizziness, drowsiness.
For a mild, opening medicine, use Doan's Regulax. 25c a box at all stores.—Advertisement.

Good morning! Have you seen The Courier?
Evansville's best paper.
Advertisement.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching skin troubles, use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. 50c a box at all stores.—Advertisement.

Clover Hay For Sale.

$10 per ton at barn.
Phone 206-3. R. H. RIVES.

Ham Sacks.

Plenty of ham sacks just received at this office. Call and get your supply.

Cottage For Rent.

Seven-room cottage at 104 W. 17th street. Good repair, bath and electric lights, garden and fruit trees. One square from Main. Immediate possession.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

For Sale

Four H. P. Gasoline tank cooled International engine, in good condition, at a very low price. May be seen at PLANTERS HDW. CO.
Incorporated.

Advertisement.

Eggs For Hatching.

Barred Plymouth Rocks, Thompson strain with new blood from Holder-man, Miles and Latham. Fine winter layers, 10 dozen eggs from one pen in January. Eggs 15 for $1.50 or 30 for $2.50. Phone 94 or 449.

STANDARD POULTRY CO.,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

NOTICE!

On January 1916, I purchased from The City Grocery Co., Store No. 2, in old Kinkead stand, near L. & N.
depot.

G. E. CARPENTER.

NOTICE

I wish to say to my friends that I am no longer with W. A. P. Pool & Son, but am prepared to handle any business in the Undertaking line. Any call, day or night, given my prompt and personal attention. Phone 1134.

H. L. HARTON.

Stopped Those Pains.

Copper Hill, Va.—Mrs. Ida Conner, of this place, says: "For years, I had a pain in my right side, and was very sick with it. I tried different doctors but could get no relief. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I took Cardui, and it relieved the pain in my side, and now I feel like a new person. It is a wonderful medicine."
Many women are completely worn out and discouraged on account of some womanly trouble. Are you?
Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Its record shows that it will help you.
Why wait? Try it today. Ask your druggist about it.—Advertisement.

Anneke Jans.

The Anneke Jans Farm, granted in 1635 to Roelof Janssen, consisted of 62 acres lying between the present
Warren and Canal streets, west of Broadway. Roelof's widow, Anneke, married Dominie Bogardus, whence the latter name of the farm, the Bo-gardus farm, or the Dominie's Bowardie. The farm was sold in 1670 to Governor Lovelace, in 1674 confiscated by the Duke of York, and in 1705 granted in perpetuity to Trinity church. Most of it is still Trinity property, except the portions ceded to the city for streets and St. John's Park. Much has been written about the Anneke Jans property, and detailed information concerning the old records, etc., can be obtained from the New York Historical society or the City History club.

Dangers of Draft.

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible!
Good for Neuritis too. Price 25c.
at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

Sweden's new explosive is said to be the deadliest yet discovered.

Plant That Coughs.
In Africa a French botanist has discovered a plant that literally coughs to clear its leaf pores of dust.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price $1.00
Advertisement.

LIGHT'S EFFECTS ON GERMS

While it kills some, it transforms Others into Creatures of a Different Species.

If sunlight destroys bacteria, it is also the active agent in multiplying their species. Such, at least, is the obvious deduction which science is drawing from a recent experiment of Mrs. Victor Henry, and it is one that opens up an entirely new field to the bacteriologists.

She had occasion recently to expose some germs of anthrax to the rays from a mercury vapor lamp. As she expected, the treatment proved fatal to most of the subject, but a few of them survived.

The astonishing feature in the case was that the survivors had undergone a radical transformation. They were no longer thin and threadlike. They had become spherical, or nearly so, true cocci, in fact. At the same time, they were radically different from all known species.

What is more, upon cultivation they did not return to their original form, and when injected into animals produced an entirely new disease.

Mrs. Henry is forced to the conclusion that she has developed an entirely new bacterial family, and reasoning from her experience believes that she has hit upon the means by which such families have multiplied. It is her opinion that after long exposure to sunlight, a germ, if not destroyed, undergoes a radical change in form and nature, thus becoming the root of an entirely new species.

ARE USING ROMAN-WEAPONS

Soldiers of Today Employ Almost a Duplicate of Sword Used by Caesar's Legionaries.

If one of Caesar's legionaries who fell in the "pacification" of Gaul could be waked from his long sleep and placed in the trenches, he would find one or two familiar things, even if he failed to recognize the landscape.
The appalling racket, the bursting shells, the spectacle of men struck down by invisible agencies of death—these would be new and awesome. But the helmet would have a rather familiar feeling on his brows, and if he took part in a charge he would show himself a most efficient man with the "trench knife."

For this new weapon is just the old Roman broadsword revived and brought down to date. The blade is a bit shorter than that to which the legionary was accustomed—15 inches instead of 18. But the point and edge are keen, the steel is good, the hilt is plain, and the junction to "thrust at the face" is as sound as ever. With this accustomed weapon in his grip and a cloak over his arm in lieu of shield, Calus of the Tenth legion would be a nasty warrior to meet on the chalk knolls of Champagne.

To Reform Thermometer.

A sign of progress is a bill introduced by a Pacific coast representative to substitute the Centigrade for the Fahrenheit thermometer in government publications. When Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit nearly 200 years ago devised the scale which bears his name 32 degrees below the freezing point was the lowest temperature he knew, so he called it zero. But his graduation has been displaced in the scientific world almost as completely as his idea of the extreme of cold.
Scientists everywhere use the Centi-grade scale, and the Fahrenheit is in popular use in English-speaking countries only.

The Centigrade thermometer is graduated in a simple and rational way, the freezing point being marked zero and the boiling point 100. The movement for reform of the thermometer ought to go hand-in-hand with the propaganda for universal adoption of the metric system of weights and measures and for uniform decimal relations of coinage in all nations.—
Newark Evening News.

His Shaves Stopped Alimony.

Unable, he claims, to pay the alimony awarded his wife because of expenses attached to daily shaves, attending the movies nightly and other more or less princely luxuries, George Lawson was arrested by Detective Barnshaw on a bench warrant issued by Vice Chancellor Leaming and sent to the county jail on contempt proceedings.

When his wife brought action for divorce some time ago Lawson strenuously objected to the amount of alimony imposed by the vice chancellor, declaring that he was unable to pay,
as he required the ministrations of a barber daily and a seat at the movies to settle his nerves after a day of toil.
The vice chancellor told him to buy a safety razor and drop the show passion.—Atlantic City dispatch Philadelphia Record.

Decorations for Women.

Foreign countries are most prodigal of feminine decorations. There are in all some twenty foreign orders, and it is said that Spain was the first country to honor the gentler sex by including them in orders of chivalry. The Legion of Honor, which has been planned to not a few feminine breasts in the present war, the Russian Order of St. Catherine and the Austrian Star Cross are a few of the greater orders which can be accorded to women. In no country does the decoration bestowed on a woman carry any title, as in the case of a masculine knighthood, but in several countries certain female decorations bestow a sort of status equivalent to rank in the army.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always BoughtBears the Signature
ofIn
Use
For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE BENTLEY COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

BUCK WHEAT CAKES
AND

Sugar House Molasses

Nothing Finer For Breakfast if the COOPER Kind is Used.

Head Lettuce, Radishes, Salsify, Cabbage, Kale, Parsnips, Sweet Potatoes, Celery, Spanish Onions, Irish Potatoes, Turnip Greens, Leaf Lettuce, Green Onions,
Etc. We will appreciate your business. Premium Store Tickets given with cash sales.

SEE OUR SHOW WINDOW

W. T. Cooper & Co.

What Counts?

We offer the suggestion that it is what you SAVE, not what you earn, that counts.

It is nice to have a big salary or to be doing a big, profitable business, but what does it amount to if you do not save?
That's where a reliable bank like ours is a big help. We will be glad to help you save by carefully guarding your deposits, by suggesting safe, profitable investments, and in every way in our power assisting you to accumulate something for a "rainy day" that's sure to come. We invite you to start an account with us, no matter how small.

The First National Bank
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

ONE MILLION PEOPLE

-- IN THE --

Sunday Schools of Kentucky

MAY 7, 1916.

You owe it to yourself and your State to attend Sunday School on May 7th. If you find there any good for yourself, or any opportunity to do good for another, become a permanent member.

KENTUCKY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The Strange Case of MARY PAGE

The Great McClure Mystery Story. Written by FREDERICK LEWIS In Collaboration With JOHN T. MINTYRE, Author of the Ashton Kirk Detective Stories. Read the Story and See the Essanay Moving Pictures

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Publication

HER FATHER'S DEATH

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Page, actress, is accused of the murder of James Pollock and is defended by her lover, Philip Langdon. Pollock was intoxicated. Shale, a crook and tool of Pollock, was on the fire escape watching for Langdon. At Mary's trial she admits she had the revolver. Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man implicates Langdon. Mary's escape after the murder is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print on Mary's shoulder. Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary. The defense is "repressed psychosis."

PSYCHOLOGISTS and those scientists who study the human brain declare that the focus of consciousness is dual, and that unless the sub-conscious mind supplements the conscious concentration, the attention is easily diverted. Thus it was that Mary Page, sitting in the prisoner's dock with the Damascus sword of justice above her, was now unconscious of the crowd in the courtroom.

Langdon and Mary Page.

Mind and soul were alike concentrated upon Langdon and upon the slow building of the evidence that was to free her from the charge of having murdered James Pollock.

A tumult of old memories was surging about her, as witness after witness told of the tragedy of a year before; (a tragedy that had so grim a sequel in the present), and yet there were strange nightmarish blanks in those memories—spaces where fact had to give place to imagination, and during which she had hung in the limbo of uncounted moments, merging like a person under ether to momentary pain-scarred consciousness, only to sink whirling back into oblivion. And it was of these moments of which Mary herself knew only by hearsay that the witnesses were now testifying.

Mary did not realize the subtlety with which Langdon was chilling these witnesses. In fact, it was doubtful if any of those in the courtroom except perhaps the Prosecutor and the Judge, appreciated the skill with which he brought out each detail in its turn.

In pursuance of his method of bringing out events as they had happened he had already, at a "bar side conference," asked permission to recall his witnesses a second or even a third time. Thus it came as a surprise only to the spectators when Mrs. Page again took her place in the witness-box.

"Mrs. Page, you told us yesterday of your daughter, struggling with her drunken father, was struck by him and fled screaming from the house. Will you tell the court, please, what followed that night? Did you go after her or remain at home?"

"It was impossible for me to follow as quickly as Mr. Langdon did," she said quietly, glancing toward the Judge. "So I stood at the gate waiting, feeling sure that it would only be a very few minutes before he would return with my poor, half-crazed girl."

"I went back as far as the window. It was very cold and I wanted to get a wrap, but I—I was afraid of my husband. I saw him sitting by the table still drinking. At last, however, he fell over onto the couch asleep, and I went in and got wraps and blankets, thinking to start out myself in search of Mary. As I came out of the cottage I saw Mr. Pollock drive up in his motor. He said, 'My God, she'll die out there in the cold. They must be a pack of idiots not to have found her!

this time.' Then he grabbed the other man by the arm and said, 'Get in the car and show me how to reach the place where the searching party is. I'll find Mary—I promise you that!'

"Did he offer to take you with him?" "Yes, but I felt that I must stay at home in case—a case—they brought her back, or she wandered back of her own accord."

"Did you go into the house after they had left?" Langdon's voice was very gentle now, and Mrs. Page smiled at him, a smile that was far sadder than tears as she said:

"No—I wrapped myself up and sat on the steps. I—I felt nearer to Mary out under the stars."

"That is all, Mrs. Page."

But now the District Attorney was on his feet holding up an arresting hand.

"Mrs. Page," he said harshly, one lean finger thrust towards her menacingly, "if your husband struck your daughter and injured her so terribly that she temporarily lost her reason, why doesn't she carry a scar?"

"Why, she does." There was a note of surprise in the quick answer, and Mary's fingers tightened ever so little about the rail in front of her.

"Is it possible to show the court that scar?" There was a sneer in the voice; a sneer born of the realization that something must be done to stem the great tide of sympathy for Mary, and cast disparagement upon this story from the past. But his request was a boomerang, for when Mary, trembling a little, took her place before the court and, lifting the soft hair from her forehead, showed the great livid mark of a hideous scar, the murmuring of compassion that swept through the room found a mute echo on the Bench itself, and the Prosecutor, discomfited, swung curtly away and dropped into his seat as Langdon called the next witness.

"John Alexander MacPherson!"

"Mr. MacPherson, you have told of seeing Miss Page running through the wood and of my finding her. Will you tell us now, please, whether you saw me again at that night and under what circumstances?"

"I saw Mr. Langdon again on that night within the hour. I had use more than reach home and were telling my guide wife of the evening when there came a knock at the door. I opened it, and there stood Mr. Langdon. He was all in a fiery fury—not to say commotion, and his face was white. Beyond him I could see two or three other men—all excited like."

"Did you recognize them?"

"Aye, there were men from the town—I had seen them often, and taken a wee drapple with them at the hotel come Saturday night. But it were Mr. Langdon who spoke. 'Have you seen Miss Page,' he cried, catching at my sleeve. 'We are looking for her.' 'Did you mean to say you've lost her again?' I asked; and he said, 'Yes. I sat down to rest a bit and I must have lost consciousness. When I came to, she was gone.'"

"Did you go with any of the three men?"

"Havers, no, man! I came back for my cap and coat, and I got to the door just in time to save Mr. Langdon from a bad fall, for he would have gone over in a heap if I hadn't caught him. My guide wife and I took him in the house, and when he was revived a bit I was for leavin' him, but he wouldn't stay. He said, 'I must find Mary myself—it was I lost her the second time. So we went out together.'"

"How long was it before you got a trace of her?" Langdon's voice was toneless, but his eyes were alight with fire as he pictured to himself that strange night hunt for the slender girl he loved. The occasional shouts of the other searchers; the flash of a lantern; the heavy shadows and vividly white snow; the cold that stung his face and hands and the aching weariness that numbed his muscles. It had been like a nightmare to him, a dream that set his head throbbing, and in which the only real thing was the staid bulk of MacPherson encouraging him forward—and then—the little shoe! He roused himself with a start, realizing that the Scotchman was answering his question.

"It might have been fifteen minutes—maybe more, when we came to her little footprints in the snow. Then—" he paused a moment and his voice softened, "we found her wee slipper in a snow bank. A bit further we found another one—and the snow began to be flecked with drops of blood. But I should say it was half past half an hour before we came upon the lassie herself, lying in a faint like."

"Was she conscious?"

"Aye, and we could na bring her to, so we wrapped her in our coats and took her back to the guide wife."

"Will you tell us please in what condition Miss Page was when I—when you—arrived at your house with her?"

MacPherson frowned at the memory and a deeper note crept into his tones as he said slowly:

"She was like conscious, and her clothes were torn to pieces and hangin' in ribbons. Such clothes as she had on, pair lassie! Her feeties were cut with the lee and the stones, and there was a terrible wound on her forehead and an ill faired queer bruise on one shoulder."

"Was your wife alone in the house when you returned?"

"Aye, there was maybe half a dozen men frae the town, who had heard of the lassie and had come to help the search. They set up a shout when they saw us, and I had one of them fire his revolver to tell the others Miss Page was with us."

"Did they show any emotion at the sight of Miss Page's condition?" asked Langdon, and a little shudder shook Mrs. Page, who alone of all those present knew of the tragedy to which that "emotion" had led. MacPherson's voice, too, was grim as he said:

"I wouldn't call it 'emotion,' but there was a gude bit of murmurin' against those who had driven so sweet a lassie distracted and sent her to maybe her death in the snow. The murmurin' grew louder when they saw the hurt and there were cries to know who had done it. When Mr. Langdon told them, the murmur grew louder and finally one of the lads cried out in a loud voice, 'This town has na room for white-baiters and drunken brutes—he ought to be hung.'"

A stir of excitement swept through the courtroom, for MacPherson, without a gesture, with no more than a rising inflection of his voice, had brought before them a vision of the snowy night and the little house from whose doorway the lamplight streamed out, mellowing the snow to gold, and touching with its fingers of light the grim faces of that group of men stirred to the deep anger of the mob at the thought of Dan Page's brutality.

"Did the other men make any threats?"

"Aye. Another one of them cried out, 'Killin' is too good for Dan Page. He should be horsewhipped out of town.' At that, my wife came up to me and says, 'For the lassie's sake, don't let them be takin' the law into their own hands or there'll be murder done this night.' So I cried, 'Dinna take the matter too personal, lads—we've law and a gaol in this town. Somebody get the sheriff.'"

"Did they heed you?"

"I couldn't tell at the time, because just then a cutter comes dashin' oop with two men in it, and one shouts out, 'Have you found Mary Page?' And they all answers, 'Yes, she's found! Then he says, 'I'm James Pollock—her dance—and I have come to take her home.'"

"Was Miss Page still unconscious?" The question came sharply. MacPherson shook his head.

"Aye, she was conscious, and when she heard him she gave a cry of 'No, no, no!' and dragged herself up from where she lay and clung to Mr. Langdon. At that the man Pollock pushed by me and cried, 'Mary! Mary—I have come to take you home.'"

"Did Miss Page answer him?"

"Aye, she just shook her head, and Mr. Langdon said, 'Miss Page is not going home yet.' But Mr. Pollock was sair angry and shouted, 'What the devil have you got to do with it? Haven't you made trouble enough?'"

"Did Mr. Pollock make any move toward Miss Page?"

"Aye. He took a quick step forward like he would carry her off, but the guide wife stopped him. 'Ye'll na move the puir lassie till she is warm and resit,' she said, and put her arms about her and took her into the bedroom beyond. Mr. Langdon helped her, and when he came out he said, 'Miss Page will not return to her drunken

Mr. friend Dr. Jamison and wife will give her temporary shelter and the proper medical attention.'"

"Did Mr. Pollock acquiesce?" Langdon's voice was dry with remembrance.

"Mr. Pollock was sair angry, and he said, 'It is not for you to say what my friends will do. I'll not have her put with your father-in-law. She shall go where I like—I can protect her from her father.' I suppose you think you can carry her right off under my nose. Well, let me tell you that's called by an ugly name! At that Mr. Langdon shouts, 'What do you mean, Jim Pollock? Tell me what you mean by that! He looks no fiercer I feared a fight, so I went between them and said, 'Dinna fash yersels like that. Think of the puir lassie—and be quiet.' Then I said to Mr. Pollock, 'Ye'll gang outside a bit and when the lassie is resit, I'll let ye know.'"

"Did Mr. Pollock go then?"

"Aye, for I went with him to the door myself."

"Were the men still outside?"

"I nae, and it giv' me a shock like, for I end see na one except the friends of Mr. Pollock. The livers had all slipped away towards the town."

"Did you speak of their absence when you re-entered the cabin?"

"Na, for I had bither matters to make clear. I had made up my mind that it

"I will jes' take a run back to the town, I'm thinkin', and make sure there's na harm comin' to Dan Page through this night's work." And Mr. Langdon says, quick like, 'What do you mean?' So I told him and the doctor, and Mr. Langdon was all for comin' with me, but the doctor wouldn't let him. 'Dinna fash yersel,' I said, when I saw the doctor was right. 'I'll see fast, and if there is need for you I'll come right back.' And the doctor said, 'Ye're all worn out, Philip. You've got to have some rest. Be sensible!' So I went back alone."

"At what hour did you reach the home of Miss Page?"

"I dinna ken the exact hour, but it were about daylight, and I cude see quite a ways ahead of me."

"Will you tell us, please, what you saw when you approached the Page house?"

Slowly one great hand clinched itself into a knotted fist, and the muscles of his jaw tightened, and across those who sat between, the gray eyes of the Scotchman and the tear-dimmed eyes of Mrs. Page met in a mute communion of terrible memories. Then, slowly, with a new tone of suppressed excitement leading a thrill to his voice he said:

"When I got nigh enough to see the house, I cude see a great black splotch in front of it, that I made out to be men. Then I cude hear shouts: 'Come oot, Dan Page, we've summat to say to you!' So I didna drive right oop to the place. I stopp'd in the road and crept through the wood at the back and, hiding under the hedge, got oop to the rear. Then I wrote on a wee scrap of paper, 'I've news of Mary—and I come to bring help.' Then I tapp'd on a window, till I saw Mrs. Page peerin' oot—and I held up the paper."

"After a minute or so she unlatched the back door and I slipped in. 'Oh, Mr. MacPherson,' says the puir lady, cryin', 'Is my girl safe?' And I says, 'Safe and sound asleep.' And she says, 'Thank God!' Then I heard another voice sayin', 'Annie, Annie—who is it? Don't let them get me—oh, my God, don't let them get me!' And I saw that Dan Page was hidin' behind her, clingin' to her skirts like a scared bairn. His face were all drawn and twistit like, and his mouth was slobberin', and he kept cryin', 'I was drunk—I was drunk! You tell them, Annie! You tell them! At that she says like one speakin' to a child, 'There, there, Dan—you're safe!' And then there came an awfu' cry from outside: 'Come oot, Dan Page—or we'll smoke ye out like the beast that ye are!' At that Mrs. Page began to sob and says, 'Oh, what shall I do? What shall I do! They will na talk to me—and they'll burn oor house, they'll burn oor house! Oh, if Philip were only here!'"

"Dinna greet," I said, "I'll get him, but he mun ha' time. Let Dan Page go upstairs and talk to them from a window."

"Oh, Dan," says the puir lady, 'Dan—will you do that? Tell them you didn't mean to hurt Mary—or me.' 'No, no,' he whimpered, 'I can't, I can't! But I grabbit him by the arm and pulled him to his feet. 'Be a man,' I cried, and I shookit him. 'Be a man and get on upstairs.'"

"You'd be safe in the cupola, Dan," says Mrs. Page. 'I'll stay with you—and this kind man will go for Philip! But he kept sayin', 'No, no,' and I could hear the others laughin' at the door and I dared not stay, so I slipped out the way I came and went off for Mr. Langdon."

Mrs. Page, whose anxiety to be near Mary had kept her from returning to the witness room, shuddered at the memories that MacPherson was conjuring up out of the past. The softness which time has lent the tragedy of that chill winter morning was stripped off, exposing the old horrible wound, and she could feel again those groping fingers, icy cold, clenching at her as she strove to drag Dan Page up stairs towards the cupola.

She could hear his voice, now thick with drink, now utt'ril with terrible fear—as he pleaded with her to hide him and to save him. She had been mercifully numb with the horror of it then; consumed only with the desire to hold those men at bay long enough for MacPherson to bring help, and it was that desire which gave her the strength to drag the heavy bulk of her husband up the two flights of stairs into the little cupola at the top.

She could feel again the sting of the cold dawn wind against her face as she stepped out on the platform of rough boards and dropped the inert figure of her husband at her feet.

tern; the heavy shadows and vividly white snow; the cold that stung his face and hands and the aching weariness that numbed his muscles. It had been like a nightmare to him, a dream that set his head throbbing, and in which the only real thing was the staid bulk of MacPherson encouraging him forward—and then—the little shoe! He roused himself with a start, realizing that the Scotchman was answering his question.

"It might have been fifteen minutes—maybe more, when we came to her little footprints in the snow. Then—" he paused a moment and his voice softened, "we found her wee slipper in a snow bank. A bit further we found another one—and the snow began to be flecked with drops of blood. But I should say it was half past half an hour before we came upon the lassie herself, lying in a faint like."

"Was she conscious?"

"Aye, and we could na bring her to, so we wrapped her in our coats and took her back to the guide wife."

"Will you tell us please in what condition Miss Page was when I—when you—arrived at your house with her?"

MacPherson frowned at the memory and a deeper note crept into his tones as he said slowly:

"She was like conscious, and her clothes were torn to pieces and hangin' in ribbons. Such clothes as she had on, pair lassie! Her feeties were cut with the lee and the stones, and there was a terrible wound on her forehead and an ill faired queer bruise on one shoulder."

"Was your wife alone in the house when you returned?"

"Aye, there was maybe half a dozen men frae the town, who had heard of the lassie and had come to help the search. They set up a shout when they saw us, and I had one of them fire his revolver to tell the others Miss Page was with us."

"Did they show any emotion at the sight of Miss Page's condition?" asked Langdon, and a little shudder shook Mrs. Page, who alone of all those present knew of the tragedy to which that "emotion" had led. MacPherson's voice, too, was grim as he said:

"I wouldn't call it 'emotion,' but there was a gude bit of murmurin' against those who had driven so sweet a lassie distracted and sent her to maybe her death in the snow. The murmurin' grew louder when they saw the hurt and there were cries to know who had done it. When Mr. Langdon told them, the murmur grew louder and finally one of the lads cried out in a loud voice, 'This town has na room for white-baiters and drunken brutes—he ought to be hung.'"

A stir of excitement swept through the courtroom, for MacPherson, without a gesture, with no more than a rising inflection of his voice, had brought before them a vision of the snowy night and the little house from whose doorway the lamplight streamed out, mellowing the snow to gold, and touching with its fingers of light the grim faces of that group of men stirred to the deep anger of the mob at the thought of Dan Page's brutality.

"Did the other men make any threats?"

"Aye. Another one of them cried out, 'Killin' is too good for Dan Page. He should be horsewhipped out of town.' At that, my wife came up to me and says, 'For the lassie's sake, don't let them be takin' the law into their own hands or there'll be murder done this night.' So I cried, 'Dinna take the matter too personal, lads—we've law and a gaol in this town. Somebody get the sheriff.'"

"Did they heed you?"

"I couldn't tell at the time, because just then a cutter comes dashin' oop with two men in it, and one shouts out, 'Have you found Mary Page?' And they all answers, 'Yes, she's found! Then he says, 'I'm James Pollock—her dance—and I have come to take her home.'"

"Was Miss Page still unconscious?" The question came sharply. MacPherson shook his head.

"Aye, she was conscious, and when she heard him she gave a cry of 'No, no, no!' and dragged herself up from where she lay and clung to Mr. Langdon. At that the man Pollock pushed by me and cried, 'Mary! Mary—I have come to take you home.'"

"Did Miss Page answer him?"

"Aye, she just shook her head, and Mr. Langdon said, 'Miss Page is not going home yet.' But Mr. Pollock was sair angry and shouted, 'What the devil have you got to do with it? Haven't you made trouble enough?'"

"Did Mr. Pollock make any move toward Miss Page?"

"Aye. He took a quick step forward like he would carry her off, but the guide wife stopped him. 'Ye'll na move the puir lassie till she is warm and resit,' she said, and put her arms about her and took her into the bedroom beyond. Mr. Langdon helped her, and when he came out he said, 'Miss Page will not return to her drunken

Mr. friend Dr. Jamison and wife will give her temporary shelter and the proper medical attention.'"

"Did Mr. Pollock acquiesce?" Langdon's voice was dry with remembrance.

"Mr. Pollock was sair angry, and he said, 'It is not for you to say what my friends will do. I'll not have her put with your father-in-law. She shall go where I like—I can protect her from her father.' I suppose you think you can carry her right off under my nose. Well, let me tell you that's called by an ugly name! At that Mr. Langdon shouts, 'What do you mean, Jim Pollock? Tell me what you mean by that! He looks no fiercer I feared a fight, so I went between them and said, 'Dinna fash yersels like that. Think of the puir lassie—and be quiet.' Then I said to Mr. Pollock, 'Ye'll gang outside a bit and when the lassie is resit, I'll let ye know.'"

"Did Mr. Pollock go then?"

"Aye, for I went with him to the door myself."

"Were the men still outside?"

"I nae, and it giv' me a shock like, for I end see na one except the friends of Mr. Pollock. The livers had all slipped away towards the town."

"Did you speak of their absence when you re-entered the cabin?"

"Na, for I had bither matters to make clear. I had made up my mind that it

"I will jes' take a run back to the town, I'm thinkin', and make sure there's na harm comin' to Dan Page through this night's work." And Mr. Langdon says, quick like, 'What do you mean?' So I told him and the doctor, and Mr. Langdon was all for comin' with me, but the doctor wouldn't let him. 'Dinna fash yersel,' I said, when I saw the doctor was right. 'I'll see fast, and if there is need for you I'll come right back.' And the doctor said, 'Ye're all worn out, Philip. You've got to have some rest. Be sensible!' So I went back alone."

"At what hour did you reach the home of Miss Page?"

"I dinna ken the exact hour, but it were about daylight, and I cude see quite a ways ahead of me."

"Will you tell us, please, what you saw when you approached the Page house?"

Slowly one great hand clinched itself into a knotted fist, and the muscles of his jaw tightened, and across those who sat between, the gray eyes of the Scotchman and the tear-dimmed eyes of Mrs. Page met in a mute communion of terrible memories. Then, slowly, with a new tone of suppressed excitement leading a thrill to his voice he said:

"When I got nigh enough to see the house, I cude see a great black splotch in front of it, that I made out to be men. Then I cude hear shouts: 'Come oot, Dan Page, we've summat to say to you!' So I didna drive right oop to the place. I stopp'd in the road and crept through the wood at the back and, hiding under the hedge, got oop to the rear. Then I wrote on a wee scrap of paper, 'I've news of Mary—and I come to bring help.' Then I tapp'd on a window, till I saw Mrs. Page peerin' oot—and I held up the paper."

"After a minute or so she unlatched the back door and I slipped in. 'Oh, Mr. MacPherson,' says the puir lady, cryin', 'Is my girl safe?' And I says, 'Safe and sound asleep.' And she says, 'Thank God!' Then I heard another voice sayin', 'Annie, Annie—who is it? Don't let them get me—oh, my God, don't let them get me!' And I saw that Dan Page was hidin' behind her, clingin' to her skirts like a scared bairn. His face were all drawn and twistit like, and his mouth was slobberin', and he kept cryin', 'I was drunk—I was drunk! You tell them, Annie! You tell them! At that she says like one speakin' to a child, 'There, there, Dan—you're safe!' And then there came an awfu' cry from outside: 'Come oot, Dan Page—or we'll smoke ye out like the beast that ye are!' At that Mrs. Page began to sob and says, 'Oh, what shall I do? What shall I do! They will na talk to me—and they'll burn oor house, they'll burn oor house! Oh, if Philip were only here!'"

"Dinna greet," I said, "I'll get him, but he mun ha' time. Let Dan Page go upstairs and talk to them from a window."

"Oh, Dan," says the puir lady, 'Dan—will you do that? Tell them you didn't mean to hurt Mary—or me.' 'No, no,' he whimpered, 'I can't, I can't! But I grabbit him by the arm and pulled him to his feet. 'Be a man,' I cried, and I shookit him. 'Be a man and get on upstairs.'"

"You'd be safe in the cupola, Dan," says Mrs. Page. 'I'll stay with you—and this kind man will go for Philip! But he kept sayin', 'No, no,' and I could hear the others laughin' at the door and I dared not stay, so I slipped out the way I came and went off for Mr. Langdon."

Mrs. Page, whose anxiety to be near Mary had kept her from returning to the witness room, shuddered at the memories that MacPherson was conjuring up out of the past. The softness which time has lent the tragedy of that chill winter morning was stripped off, exposing the old horrible wound, and she could feel again those groping fingers, icy cold, clenching at her as she strove to drag Dan Page up stairs towards the cupola.

She could hear his voice, now thick with drink, now utt'ril with terrible fear—as he pleaded with her to hide him and to save him. She had been mercifully numb with the horror of it then; consumed only with the desire to hold those men at bay long enough for MacPherson to bring help, and it was that desire which gave her the strength to drag the heavy bulk of her husband up the two flights of stairs into the little cupola at the top.

She could feel again the sting of the cold dawn wind against her face as she stepped out on the platform of rough boards and dropped the inert figure of her husband at her feet.

Then with all the eloquence of her great fear she had pleaded with the mob below to go away. They had seemed all eyes floating on a great pool of blackness against the snow as she looked down, but later she could see the grim mouths below the eyes and knew that her plans were falling on deaf ears.

Finally one who seemed to be the ringleader had stepped forward and cried:

"Where is your husband? It is he that we want to talk to." And she had fled and said, 'He is sleeping.' They muttered ominously at that and again the ringleader spoke: 'We have no quarrel with you, Mrs. Page, but so drunkard who strikes his daughter and drives her insane shall stay in this town—Dan Page has got to go.'"

"He will, he will," she promised wildly. "I'll take him away today. He didn't mean to hurt us—he didn't know what he was doing— But he'll go away—oh, I promise that." And again the grim voice answered her:

"He'll go, but WE'LL see him off. Let him stand up like a man and talk to us."

At that they all took up the shout for Page, and he, lying on his face on

"I can protect her from her father."

was na with Mr. Pollock that the lassie should go, so I pit it nae Mr. Langdon, that wif my horse in the sleigh, we cude carry the lassie out the door to the kitchen and drive off, leavin' the guide wife to tell the livers."

"Did you carry this plan out?"

"Aye. We blit the sleigh with blankets, and I pit my shot-gun in the front and we helpit the lassie oot—"

"Will you tell us please, what you expected to do with a shot-gun?"

And a little twinkle sparkled for an instant in MacPherson's eyes.

"Mr. Pollock was in an automobile," he said, "and shot is a grand thing for tress. Nae doot you can guess yourself how much chance they have to escape it."

A ripple of laughter swept through the room, instantly hushed at the warning frown of the Judge, and MacPherson, his huge brown hands gripped about the edge of the stand, turned inquiringly towards Langdon.

"Will you tell us, Mr. MacPherson

Catarrh and Colds Relieved

To Be Rid of Catarrh

Is a great achievement. Most people would be well and happy were it not for catarrh. It is worth ten years of any one's life to learn how to get rid of catarrh.

PE-RU-NA

will show you, much quicker than any one could tell you, how to get rid of catarrh.

THE PERUNA CO., Columbus, Ohio

Mrs. Emma Gannon, 107 E. South St., Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For fifteen years I had catarrh of the head and stomach. I could hardly walk. My attention was called to 'The Ills of Life.' I read it through. Then bought a bottle of Peruna. I am entirely well now."

CHARLIE McPHERSON

Once More Safe In Uncle Sam's Domains.

Chas. J. McPherson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McPherson, has safely returned from a lengthy visit to the war zone. He had been in Russia several months on business in connection with auto trucks manufactured by the Philadelphia house with which he is connected. He reached Philadelphia Saturday and wired his father of his return. The vessel upon which he arrived was two or three days late.

LATEST KANSAS CYCLONE.

Kansas City, April 24.—With definite information still lacking from Stover, Mo., and Bourbon county, Kansas, both hard hit by Wednesday night's storm, which swept Western Missouri and Eastern Kansas, it is feared the death toll may reach 20. More than 120 known injured are reported.

The property damage is estimated at close to $1,000,000.

LOVELY GIRL'S DEATH.

Miss Nell Wash, a daughter of Hon. E. E. Wash and a sister of Mr. W. B. Wash, of this city, died yesterday morning at her home in Cadiz, after a long illness. The funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Carmack-Simpson.

Aubra Carmack, aged 21 years, and Miss Hazel Simpson, aged 17, both of the Larkin neighborhood, were united in marriage here Saturday. Judge Walter Knight officiated.

HOGS ARE MORTGAGE LIFTERS

Says Mr. Otis Kircher In His Talks To Farmers of Christian.

In his recent talks to the boys at Kelly and Sinking Fork, Otis Kircher, Agent of the Pig Club work, said that more hogs should be raised at Kelly and Sinking Fork. He called hogs the mortgage lifters, and says that all grain as far as practicable should be fed live stock, that live stock raising should be increased as much as circumstances admitted.

The Pig Clubs are very popular over the State. Last year comparatively few boys were enrolled. This year the number is doubled.

Mr. Kircher says he likes to come to Christian county and hopes to return soon, as it is headquarters for almost every up to date movement and "right on the job" at all times.

Several boys joined the pig and corn clubs at both Kelly and Sinking Fork.

County Agent A. M. Casey followed Mr. Kircher and talked about corn, pig and poultry work, explaining the "Acme Mills Egg Project," whereby they are giving away first class White Wyandotte eggs to responsible farmers. Ten farmers' wives requested to be enrolled in this movement to further the standardization of White Wyandotte chickens.

Mr. Casey is very enthusiastic about the spirit manifested by the farmers at both Kelly and Sinking Fork and expects to form clubs at both places if the farmers continue to take the same interest that was manifested at these meetings.

Several farmers became enthused over the advantages to be derived from sweet clover and will sow seed at once.

Name Does Not Denote Value.
The original Delft pottery is undoubtedly of great value to collectors of antiques as it dates from the fourteenth century, but the name proves nothing, as any colored glazed earthenware made after the delft pattern may bear that name.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, Etc.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ROAD BUILDING

ROAD BUILDING IS DIFFICULT

Experience and Expert Knowledge Are Essential—Federal Government Offers Assistance.

Road building is a scientific problem—not a haphazard job. We believe, however, that if a census were taken tomorrow, 99 per cent of the people of this land would claim that they were amply qualified to build a road and edit a newspaper. Only a small percentage get a chance to try their hands on the blue pencil proposition, but a trip over almost any country road will convince one that most of the 99 have had a crack at road building.

Little by little the public in general and the officials charged with the responsibility for our highways are learning that road building requires expert knowledge and experience. That ridiculous, antiquated provision for "working out the road tax" which has spoiled more roads than a bombardment from all the high-calibered guns of the European armies, is gradually disappearing from our statute books. Board of county commissioners and township supervisors are giving the matter thoughtful attention and improvement will undoubtedly be rapid from now on. The federal government is offering every assistance to the forward movement. Object-lesson roads are constructed upon application of township or county authorities to demonstrate proper methods of construction and proper use of road-building materials. The office of public roads and rural engineering of the department of agriculture furnishes the services of an engineer, and the local communities are required to furnish all the material, labor and supplies. Experimental roads are also constructed to determine the relative merits and values of the various types of road construction, and of the various preparations and materials for use in road construction. In certain instances the office pays only a portion of the cost of these roads and the balance is borne by the county in which the road is located.

Well-Kept Road in Iowa.

It is too bad that we had to wait for the wall of the stalled automobilist to awaken us to the shameful condition of our roads. A Scotch civil engineer was imported as adviser in the matter of building a railway over our great western plains. He investigated very carefully and gravely reported that the project was unfeasible. When pressed for his reason by the astonished promoters of the enterprise, he said: "You cannot build a line of railway over that country because there's no place to run your tunnels." The "designer" of most of our country roads has been laboring under a similar twisted and contorted vision of his job—but we're on our way.—Iowa Homestead.

CONCRETE ROADS GAIN FAVOR

Highways Are Expensive to Build, but Are Proving, Especially in California, Everlasting.

Investigations by the department of agriculture have shown a wonderful increase in the popularity of roads with heavy concrete base. Such roads are expensive to build, but are proving, especially in sections like California, almost everlasting. The best investment California has made has been her good roads. There have been some mistakes; there have been disappointments because of the inability to cover all sections, but there have been enough benefits secured from the good roads to amply compensate for all they have cost.

Community Action Needed.
In many places community action in destroying weeds is necessary, as it may not be profitable for a farmer to clear his side of the road if the other side is allowed to remain a harboring place for pests.

Add Pleasure and Comfort.
Well-kept trees growing along the roadside contribute greatly to the pleasure and comfort of the travelers besides lending an attractive air to the grounds along the side.

DECIDE ELECTION TIE WITH CHIPS

Democratic Candidate for Alderman Wins "Draw" In Decision of Contest.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., April 24.—At the city election last Tuesday W. L. Stayton, democrat, and J. T. Shurtleff, republican, tied for alderman in the First ward. The tie was untied by drawing lots at the city council meeting last night. A dozen poker chips were secured. Upon one was written the name of Stayton and upon another Shurtleff's name. Mayor T. M. Puckett was then blindfolded and drew the chips one at a time until he drew one with a name on it. After drawing six blanks he took the chip bearing the name of Stayton from the hat. The council now stands seven republicans and three democrats.

FACTS ABOUT THE SLOVAKS

People Belonging to West Branch of Slav Family—Mostly Agriculturists and Woodcutters.

The Slovaks are Slavs. The Magyars are not. The Slovaks are a people belonging to the west branch of the Slav family. They are chiefly located in northwest Hungary and Moravia, but they are also to be found in Lower Austria, Slavonia and Bukovina. About three-fourths of them are Roman Catholics. Their language was a dialectal form of Czech, and Czech was used in all their writing until the end of the eighteenth century, when the Slovak dialect began to be used in writing. The Slovaks are principally agriculturists and woodcutters. They number about 2,500,000. So far as is known, the Slovaks occupied their present territory about the fifth or sixth century, together with land stretching far to the south. When the Magyars conquered the kingdom of Great Moravia in 907, the Slovaks were a part of that country; the Magyars displaced or assimilated the southern Slovaks and have, with brief interruptions, ruled the rest ever since. In 1848-49, when the Magyars rose against Austria, the Slovaks in turn rose against the Magyars, but on the treaty of peace were handed back to them. The Magyars are a Finno-Ugric or Finno-Turki people, descendants of the race who, about 550, moved from the Ural region to the Volga, and after a long sojourn on the Russian steppe were driven westward to obtain a permanent footing, before the close of the ninth century, in the basin of the middle Danube.

OVERHEARD ON THE LAKE

"How can you know they're married?"

"Can't you see? He's making her strap her own skates."

EXPLAINING AN APPELLATION.

"Why do you call your mule 'Philippines'?"

"A gemman come along an' told me dat 'ud be a good name," replied Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "I were 'scusin' de animal wif 'im an' I told 'im I wasn' made up in my mind whether I'd hold on to 'im or try to trade 'im off or lose 'im."

TOO GOOD.

"Was the paper Mrs. Gadders read before the Literary club—er—illuminating, informative and all that sort of thing?"

"I suppose so."

"Yes?"

"At least, all the other club members thought so well of the paper that none of them believed Mrs. Gadders wrote it."

Lest Ye Forget WE HANDLE

Everything You Need in Spring Cleaning and Brightening Up.

O'cedar Mops 2 sizes; O'cedar Polish 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

Wizar Mops, combination sets, 2 mops for price of 1. Wizar Polish 25c per bottle.

Liquid Veneer, 25c, 50c and $1 size bottles.

Marvel Oil Mops. E. Z. Klean, Dustless Oil Mops.

The Perfection Brush, made of Long Fleece Lambs Wool, for walls, ceiling and floors. White Wash Brushes 10c, 15c and 25c. Scrub Brushes, Fibre and Bristle, 10c to 25c each.

Jap-a-lac makes floors and furniture look new.

Linen, Thread and Cotton Mops—2 sizes.

Old Dutch Cleanser, Lighthouse Cleanser, Spotless Cleanser, Bon-Ami—powdered and Cake, 10c each.

Sani Flush for bath rooms, 25c can.

Lustre Box for Cleaning Glass or Metal 10c box.

Swissaler for Cleaning Glass and Metal.

No excuse for not cleaning up. Give us your order.

"If On The Market We Have It."

Telephone 79 or 118—Quick Delivery Service. Four Deliveries Daily. Your Business Appreciated.

SEE OUR WINDOWS.

C. R. Clark & Co.

INCORPORATED.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Miss Edwin Elliott has returned from Bowling Green, where she spent several weeks attending Normal school.

Mrs. W. T. Cooper is spending some time at Cerulean.

Mrs. E. B. Bradshaw, of Cadiz, is spending a few days with relatives in the city. She and her aunt, Mrs. Polk Cansler, spent Saturday and Sunday with her brother, Mr. L. A. Summers, near Gracey.

Charles McKee has returned from Jonesboro, Ark., where he was for ten days at the bedside of his brother, Ellis McKee, who was critically ill. The patient is somewhat improved and it is believed he will recover. His mother, Mrs. L. H. McKee, is still with him.

Herbert Pursley left yesterday for Lexington, where he has accepted a position with Frankel & Anderson, architects, who make a specialty of steel construction work. He has worked at his profession with J. T. Waller of this city and G. T. Smith, of Clarksville, but has recently been in other business.

Shrine Saved From Destruction.

In 1871, during the commune, Notre Dame cathedral, famed the world over, was menaced with grave dangers owing to the fury of the communists, who, having effected an entrance, collected all the available chairs and other combustible material and, piling it in a huge bonfire, drenched with oil, in the center of the choir, attempted to destroy the cathedral by fire. The evil designs of the incendiaries were, however, happily frustrated by the arrival of the National guard.

"E" Pupils of H. H. S.

Senior—Juanita Bartley, Louise Breathitt, Frances Garnett, Elizabeth McPherson, Grace Richards, Anna Scheifer, Myrtha Southall, Bessie Walker, Joe Moseley.

Junior—Flora Rawls, Karl Hisgen. Sophomore—Ann Bell, Julia Breathitt, Lucy Macrae, Florence Southall, Lela Walker, Rowena Yost.

Freshman—Dorothy Bartley, Martha Feland, Lillian Randle. Commercial—Cleora Hall, Fannie Rice, Edward Breathitt.

Will Play Clarksville.

Saturday afternoon the High School will meet their old rivals, Clarksville High School, at Mercer's Park. Last season Clarksville beat the High School three games, but this year quite a different result is looked for.

This week Coach Mallory will drill his team on the finer points of the game. He intends to have them in the best shape possible when the Umps halloo "Play Ball" on next Saturday afternoon.

Giant Dies of Pneumonia.

New York, April 24.—Hugo, a circus giant, who was said to be the tallest man in the world, died here Sunday from pneumonia. He was eight feet four inches, and normally weighed 536 pounds. He was 47 years old, was born in Italy and was known among circus people only as Hugo.

Louisville Outrage.

Seized by two men near her home, 1225 Zane street, Mary M. McGarthy, 13 years old, was assaulted and is in a serious condition at the city hospital. Citizens searched in vain for the assailants.

? WHAT IS HOME ?

WITHOUT A BATH ROOM. There is no reason for being without One as We are fully equipped to Install One on short notice. CALL US FOR AN ESTIMATE.

HUGH McSHANE, Plumber

Always at your service. Cor. 10th and Liberty Sts. Phone 960.

The man with money should let those get-rich-quick "snaps" alone.

When you have worked hard for your money, don't let some "oily-tongued" stranger, who never did an honest day's work in his life, come along and "talk you in" on some FOOL SCHEME into which you will sink all the hard-earned savings of a lifetime.

You cannot "get rich quick" from the efforts of others. But you can get rich quicker than you think if you will begin banking your money TODAY and firmly resolve to INCREASE the balance to your credit every month. Try It.

Put YOUR money in OUR bank.

We pay 3 per cent. Interest on time certificates of deposits.

Bank of Hopkinsville
Hopkinsville, Ky.

FOUR VICTIMS OF DISEASE

Die At The W. S. Hospital Within The Past Few Days.

Callie M. Staples, a Butler county farmer, who had been in the Western State Hospital about two months, died at the institution one day last week of pellagra, aged 45 years. The remains were shipped to Browder.

Columbus Johnson, a farmer of this county, died at the asylum Friday night of tuberculosis, aged 21 years. He was received here about seven years ago. The interment took place near Haley's Mill.

Miss Ellen Gerard, a patient from Warren county, received here about two years ago, died Saturday of tuberculosis. The remains were sent to Bowling Green.

Mahlow Bell, of McCracken county, died Saturday of status epilepticus. The body was shipped to Paducah.

SUES FOR $1,050 DAMAGES.

Travis Hawkins has filed suit against the L. & N. Railroad Co., for $1,000 damages and $50 doctor's bills. Plaintiff alleges that he was engaged as a repairman on the Gracely-Clarksville branch and the tools furnished him to work with were defective and this caused him to get some of his ribs broken ends penetrating his lungs.

PEACEFUL END AT RIPE OLD AGE

Mrs. Mollie M. Clardy Passed Death of Greatly Beloved Away Saturday Near Howell.

Mrs. Mollie Major Clardy, widow of the late Jas. H. Clardy, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Jenkins, near Howell, Saturday, aged about 75 years. She was born in this county, being a member of one of the county's most prominent pioneer families. She is survived by the following children: J. Henry Clardy, of Edgerton; T. F. Clardy, of Howell; U. L. Clardy of White River reservation, Arizona; Parker Clardy of Hopkinsville; Mrs. Clifton W. Garrett and Mrs. Henry Jenkins, of South Christian. She also leaves two brothers, G. H. and T. H. Major of this county; and two sisters, Mrs. Hugh Sargent, of Beverly, and Mrs. L. B. Cayce, of this city.

Mrs. Clardy was a lifelong member of the Baptist church and was noted for her devotion to her church and her consistent christian character. The funeral services were held Sunday and the interment was in the family burying ground.

Innocent Man Convicted.

After spending a year in prison for a crime to which another man has confessed, Jesse Miller, of Breathitt county, was pardoned by Gov. Stanley.

VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSIS

Mrs. Nancy Henderson died Saturday at her home near Fruit Hill. Tuberculosis, from which she had been a sufferer for several months, was the cause of death. Mrs. Henderson was 76 years old and leaves many relatives and friends to mourn their loss. The remains were laid to rest in the Perry burying ground Sunday.

MANY LISTS RAISED.

The Board of Equalization sent out a large number of notices of raises in assessments of city property last week and hearings were given yesterday and will be continued today, at which those who have been raised are given an opportunity to state their grievances.

Often when you think you are drinking "Mocha and Java," you are drinking South American coffee. The government has issued a bulletin showing that of the 1,000,000,000 pounds of coffee imported into the United States yearly, less than one-third of one per cent. comes from Mocha, Arabia, or the island of Java.

For Sale.

A few more tons of first-class hay. Phone 1103. C. R. ATKINS.

DON'T BUY A SILO ON

"Take It for Granted Basis"

No other farm equipment serves as useful a purpose as the silo; yet no other equipment is so much bought on the "Take It for Granted" basis. It naturally results in inferior silo equipment being fastened upon the farmer, for which he pays exorbitant prices. Here is the way you can know—not take it for granted—you are getting the best in silo construction, and are paying for no more than you receive. Get posted on the

TECKTONIUS SILO

The World's Best Silo Construction

You'll then know for yourself what to expect and demand in the silo you buy, to insure the highest class construction—the most perfect service.

Tecktonius is in one Grand Class by Itself in all Tank and Silo Equipment Service. No others are Comparable to it.

Without reflecting on your silo knowledge, we affirm, Mr. Farmer, that you cannot know—do not know—what a silo construction should be—can be and really is in the Tecktonius—until you know about and see the "Harder Patent Continuous Door Design"—the Tecktonius Self-Adjusting Silo Hoop and Door Fasteners, Silo "Hinge" Door and "Double Check" Anchor System—the really vital factors in all silos.

Licensed under Harder Patent No. 627732.

Tecktonius "Self-Adjusting" Silo Fastener automatically adjusts silo to all state swellings and shrinkings. Only one of Tecktonius Silo many exclusive features.

The Tecktonius Silo is assembled entirely on our yards and sold only by us in this territory. It is equipped complete with the Tecktonius Matchless Fixtures, giving you a silo that cannot be matched in any feature of its construction or service. We also can save you big money on its cost, for we do away with the dozen and one silo profits and extra freight charges you pay the silo manufacturer for inferior silos.

You would not think of buying a "Rake Off" Reaper after seeing the modern binder, would you?

Neither would you think of buying one of these "19th Century" silos after knowing about the "20th Century Tecktonius."

Don't even think of buying a silo until you get posted on the Tecktonius. It will put you "wise" to the shortcomings of the others. Send for

"Broadside" and Book on "Silo Facts"—Both Free—

telling you all about the "Tecktonius" and giving you valuable and instructive information on silos and silage, including a lot of things you should and want to know.

Both are free—Write for them today.

FORBES MFG. COMPANY
INCORPORATED.

LOOK HERE!

THE BIGGEST AND BEST CLUBBING BARGAINS

Ever Made. Attractive Clubs That Will Solve Your Reading Problems.

Look Over These Clubs Carefully and See What You Can Save. Each Club Must Be Sent to One Address.
No Substitutions Permitted.

CLUB NO. 1.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.....1 year
Cincinnati Enquirer, weekly.....1 year
The Housewife, monthly.....1 year
Woman's World, monthly.....1 year
Farm and Fireside, semi-monthly 1 year
Our Special Price Only.....$2.65

CLUB NO. 2.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.....1 year
Cincinnati Enquirer, weekly.....1 year
Vegetable Grower, monthly.....1 year
Farm and Home, semi-monthly.....1 year
Woman's World, monthly.....1 year
Our Special Price Only.....$2.50

CLUB NO. 3.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.....1 year
Cincinnati Enquirer, weekly.....1 year
Farm Journal, monthly.....1 year
The Housewife, monthly.....1 year
Reliable Poultry Journal, monthly 1 year
Our Special Price Only.....$2.65

CLUB NO. 4.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.....1 year
Cincinnati Enquirer, weekly.....1 year
Woman's World, monthly.....1 year
Reliable Poultry Journal, monthly 1 year
Farm and Fireside, semi-monthly 1 year
Our Special Price Only.....$2.65

CLUB NO. 5.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.....1 year
Cincinnati Enquirer, weekly.....1 year
Boys' Magazine, monthly.....1 year
Farm and Fireside, semi-monthly.....1 year
Household Journal, monthly.....1 year
To-Day's Magazine, monthly.....1 year
Our Special Price Only.....$2.65

By a very special arrangement The Hopkinsville Kentuckian announces the above remarkable offers, which are the best and greatest values in literature ever presented to our readers. Each club is a combination of Leading Periodicals that will be enjoyed with profit and pleasure by every member of the family. Now is the time to appropriate a small amount for your winter reading. You could not wish for a better array of fine reading matter than the above; we therefore urge every old and prospective subscriber to take advantage of these money-saving offers. Don't Let These Big Opportunities Slip By. Accept today and let your friends know about them. Subscriptions may be new or renewal. If renewal your time will be extended. Remember, these offers are limited and may be withdrawn at any time. Better send your order NOW.

Call at this office or address

Hopkinsville Kentuckian, Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

"POSSUM HUNTER"

Judge Rhea Orders Jury To Investigate Hugh Gish's Taken "Obligation."

Greenville, Ky., April 19—The uncompromising attitude of Circuit Judge John S. Rhea toward the "Possum Hunters" who once infested Muhlenberg county, was demonstrated at Greenville Tuesday when Judge Rhea discharged Hugh Gish from the grand jury and ordered the other grand jurors to investigate Mr. Gish because the latter admitted that he belonged to the "Possum Hunters." Gish is a prominent farmer of the Gishon neighborhood.

Judge Rhea impeached his grand jury and suddenly asked Mr. Gish if he did not belong to the "Possum Hunters." Gish replied that he had taken the "Possum Hunter" obligation. Judge Rhea immediately discharged him from the grand jury and swore in another man. Then the court called upon the grand jurors to pay particular attention to the case of Mr. Gish, and if it could be shown that he took any part in the possum hunter activity, to indict him without fear or favor.

ITS SORT.

"I got a rum deal in that store just now."
"What was it?"
"Jamaica spirits."

MOTHER-IN-LAW SCORES.

Newed—There's one thing to be said in favor of your mother, anyway. Mrs. Newed—What is that, dear?
Newed—She knows how to cook

HIS CLASS.

"The boy is a chip of the old block."
"Then I guess he must be a poker chip."

Made a Double Break.

Paducah, Ky., April 21.—Guthrie Hay, 19 years old, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary on the charge of breaking into the Home of the Friendless. He admitted entering the home, but said he had no evil intent, claiming to be in love with a 17-year-old inmate.

PUBLIC SALE.

We, the trustees of the church property of the M. E. Church, South, located at Roaring Spring, Trigg county, Kentucky, will offer for sale at a Public Auction Saturday, April 29th, 1916, at 2 o'clock p. m., the following property: The church building with the lot on which it stands 80 ft. wide and extending to center of pike, also one acre, more or less, in vacant lot adjoining. Also church fixtures, pews, organ, lamps, chairs, tables, bookcase, stoves, etc.

Real estate will be sold on terms one-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years' time with approved surety. Other property cash.

Q. A. ELLIOTT,
W. B. BLANE,
C. E. SIVLEY,
Trustees.

MORE MODERN.

She—What did you do with that automobile story you wrote?

He—I have taken it apart and am reassembling it as a submarine novel.

HEARD IN AN OFFICE.

"So poor Blank is dead. Influenza, wasn't it?"

"Yes, he snuffled off this mortal coil, poor chap."

WILLIE'S PHILOSOPHY.

"Willie, when did you wash your face last?"

"Mother, don't let's bring up the past."—Judge.

DIFFERENT TIMBER.

"The sagas of Iceland have been growing for hundreds of years."

"How do they compare with our California redwoods?"

BLUEBEARD'S DIPLOMACY.

Bluebeard's wife beheld her predecessors.

"Merely a case of severed relations," he explained.

BASEBALL FRIDAY.

The State Hospital team on Friday defeated the High School team by a score of 5 to 3, on muddy grounds. The Earlington game with High School Saturday was called off by Earlington.

WALLS ARE UP

And Roof Timbers in Place on the New Methodist Church.

The stone work on the new Methodist church is nearing completion and the roofing timbers of the main building are now in place.

The roof is supported by two great iron beams 58 feet long and more than 3 feet wide, which span the building on the sides and in turn hold up the roofing beams. Outside of these beams on either side are Sunday School rooms, one story high. The main roof towers high above these rooms. The main walls of stone are finished and the slate for covering the building is on the grounds. From now on the work will be pushed rapidly by the contractors, the Forbes Manufacturing Co.

Fright Not Cowardice.

There is a state of mind which is about half way between educational fear and cowardly fear. It is generally excusable. For instance, the fear of excruciating pain in the dentist's chair. True, this old fear has been of great value in that much of the old, painful ways have been abolished. But so powerful are early impressions and experiences—especially during adolescence—that many middle-aged persons who were tortured by dentists when young become frightened at the thought of again sitting in the chair of agony. Only by a new experience can this real fright, not real cowardice, be cast out of the mind.

Sweden has used powdered peat as fuel for boilers.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Every Woman Wants

Paxtine
ANTISEPTIC POWDER

FOR PERSONAL HYGIENE
Dissolved in water for douches stops pelvic catarrh, ulceration and inflammation. Recommended by Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. for ten years. A healing wonder for nasal catarrh, sore throat and sore eyes. Economical. Has extraordinary cleansing and germicidal power. Sample Free. 50c. all druggists, or postpaid by mail. The Paxtine Toilet Company, Boston, Mass.

W.B. CORSETS

do not require breaking-in, but are easy and comfortable the first day you wear them. You never have the desire to "let it out" while wearing W. B. NUFORM CORSETS.

W. B. NUFORM, STYLE 440. (See large illustration). For average full figures. Medium bust. Double hip construction gives more than good value. Smooth fit. Long wearing. Coutil, embroidery trimmed. $2.00.

W. B. NUFORM, STYLE 419. (See small illustration). Medium low bust; elastic inserts. Splendid wearing Coutil; embroidery trimmed. $1.50.

Other W. B. Models, $1.00 up.

W. B. BRASSIERES, worn with W. B. Corsets give fashionable figure-lines and add to gown fit. 50c up.

AT YOUR DEALERS
Send for Free Illustrated Folder to Weingarten Bros., Inc., New York, Chicago, San Francisco

W. B. NUFORM
No. 419. $2.00

THE MARKET BASKET

(Prices at Retail.)

Spring chicken each.....	30c
Eggs per dozen.....	20c
Butter per pound.....	35c
Country hams, large, pound.....	20c
Country hams, small, pound.....	21c
Lard, pure leaf, pound.....	15c
Lard, compound, 8 pounds.....	$1.00
Cabbage, per pound.....	24c
Sweet potatoes.....	35c per peck
Irish potatoes.....	40c per peck
Lemons, per dozen.....	25c
Cheese, cream, per lb.....	25c
Cheese, Swiss, per lb.....	30c
Home-grown apples, peck.....	50c
Flour, 13 pounds.....	$1.00
Flour, 24-lb sack.....	$1.00
Cornmeal, bushel.....	$1.00
Oranges, per dozen.....	30c to 50c
Apples, dozen.....	15c to 20c

In 1915 more than 1,600 Harvard students engaged in major and minor sports.

We Grind Our Own Lenses

We have just put in a complete Lens Grinding Plant and can save you money on Glasses. Broken Lenses duplicated while you wait. YOUR EYES TESTED and Glasses accurately fitted. We guarantee Satisfaction.

The popular price Jeweler and Optician. Watch Inspector L. & N. R. R.

Omaha last year entertained thirty-nine conventions with 29,389 delegates.

WANTED!

ALL KINDS OF OLD METAL.
ALL KINDS OF OLD RUBBER.
ALL KINDS OF OLD RAGS.

We pay highest Cash Prices for all goods in this line delivered to us. Soliciting your business, we remain, Yours truly,

HAYDON PRODUCE COMPANY
Per HERBERT L. HAYDON, Manager.

9th Street, near L. & N. Depot.

PHONE 26.

PERCY SMITHSON

Livery and Board Stable
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

EVERYTHING UP-TO-DATE.

Phone 32. Virginia Street. Between 7th and 8th.

HELP YOUR WIFE

To make a home out of your house. Wire for Electricity and its many conveniences.

SHE WILL APPRECIATE IT

KENTUCKY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
INCORPORATED

HAVE LAUGH ON SNOBERLY

His Fellow Members of the Club Like to Indulge in Their Merriment for Some Time.

Young Snoberly is very anxious to create the impression that he is a "don" at French. A few evenings ago, at the club, he took a French comic paper, and for half an hour he pretended to be absorbed in its contents. Every once in a while he would smile feebly, as if he had been carried away by the jokes, and say, audibly, "Mon, tres bon!"

There were several gentlemen at the adjoining table who had been noting Snoberly's antics. At last one of them said: "See that Snoberly over there pretending to read that French paper? I am certain that he does not understand French. He is just doing that to impress the people with his knowledge as a 'finglist'."

"I suppose he must understand French," replied one of the party. "I'll bet a bottle of wine that he doesn't, and I'll prove it."

"I'll take the bet," The gentleman who had made the bet walked quietly over to Snoberly, and said, "Monsieur, quelle heure est-il?" ("What o'clock is it, sir?")

Young Snoberly smiled a Parisian smile, and gracefully handed over the paper!—London Tit-Bits.

Leap-Year Advice.

Here is the sage counsel which Miss Lucille Pugh, feminist, suffragist and lawyer—and also quite pretty—is quoted as offering to all bachelor girls, absolutely without fee, for their leap year guidance, says the New York Evening Sun.

"Propose to the man of your choice, but look up his rating first."

Short and to the point. By the recourse to Bradstreet's it is argued that women may avoid unhappiness frequently resulting from penniless marriages. Good!—as far as it goes. But what eminent counselor of the other sex will not stand forth to aid his trembling brethren? Such a one might well advise:

"Accept the woman who proposes to you if you like her, but first look up her rating in the domestic arts."

One prerequisite is as fair as the other. For the woman: Do not marry for money, but love where money is; for the man: Do not marry to provide yourself with a cook, but while marrying you might as well marry someone who can make out of the place you live in a home. Something more than a liberal income is required to produce "comfortable circumstances" for two.

Talk Costs $54, Tip $10.

Spending money is a part of the life of Barney Oldfield, motor speed king. The great racing driver does not hesitate to satiate his desires, whatever they may be. He has been a guest at the Hotel Muehlebach for three days and has been away from his wife and his home in Los Angeles just a week. Stitting in his room at the hotel the great racing driver got into conversation with his wife by long-distance telephone. He talked to her eleven minutes and paid $54.96 for the privilege of the conversation. The odd cent is war tax.

Oldfield is liberal with tips, too. Miss Ann Gaffney, the operator who handled the call for him, will attest to that fact. After the conversation with his wife, the daredevil driver sent a $10 bill to the operator.—Kansas City Times.

Pigeons Learn to Swim.

The swimming of blue pigeons—the familiar domestic birds—is the remarkable sight reported to a Dutch natural history journal. Some months ago one of the doves was thrown into the water in a flight and rescued by human aid, and since then they have become more familiar with the water. Pieces of bread noticed in shallow places evidently tempted them at first. Gaining courage, they soon learned to swim, and just before making his report the observer saw two of them sailing around like gulls a few yards from his house. When they tired of the bath they quietly flew out of the water.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Violet Ray Hard on the Eye. The ultraviolet ray is of all light elements the hardest on the eye. It is also called the actinic ray and is described as "like a little barbed arrow."

HAWKERS OF VAST STRENGTH

Monster Steamers Use Steel Ropes Which It Would Seem Could Withstand Any Power.

After laborious attempts to tow the Thessaloniki into port the Greek liner Patria arrived at New York and her captain reported that three heavy steel hawsers had parted during the effort to save the disabled ship. The lines that parted were 4 1/2 inch hawsers, which means that a strain of 31 tons, or 62,000 pounds, had been exerted before the break.

In general towing and lighter ship work a three-inch steel hawser is the usual line used. This consists of six steel wire strands tightly wound on a central hemp which is soaked in oil, giving a certain pliability. This sort of hawser is also used by some of the steamship lines for permanent moorings. The breaking point of the three-inch steel line is about 23 tons. Its cost is 29 cents a foot.

The largest of steel towing lines is the one six inches in circumference, the breaking strain of which is 54 tons, or 108,000 pounds. Because of the weight of this line and the difficulty of handling it the 4 1/2-inch hawser is the one mostly used for heavy towing.

In bulk the biggest hawsers used in an American port were those on the Hamburg-American liners Vaterland and Imperator. For permanent moorings these great liners used 24-inch hemp hawsers besides smaller lines of steel wire and hemp.

MADE A QUICK RECOVERY

Elevator Man Fainted When Leg Was Crushed, but Soon Got Back on Job—It Was Cork.

When the doors of the service elevator at the Alexandria closed unexpectedly just as Joe Brousett was starting the machine it jammed his leg, mashing it fearfully. Brousett fainted. Fortunately the elevator stopped without dragging him.

"Doc" Bassett, superintendent of service, called an ambulance and hurried Brousett to his home. He appeared dazed. A physician was called. Mr. Bassett returned to the hotel and put a new man on the elevator.

Three hours later he entered the elevator and was astounded to see Brousett operating it. For a moment he thought it was a ghost, but Brousett assured him that everything was all right.

"You see, that was a cork leg that got smashed," he said. "The accident brought back so vividly my original accident that I fainted and only came to by the time I reached home. Then I put on my reserve leg and came back to work."—Los Angeles Times.

Grand Duke's Playful Way.

The Grand Duke Nicholas is not a man who talks, but he has a playful way with him at times, according to the story told by Julius West in "Soldiers of the Czar." Some time ago, during an inspection, the grand duke was standing next to the emperor, a few yards away from a group of generals. He ordered General Russky, then in command of the forces in that region, to step forward. The grand duke next ordered a private soldier to come forward and hack off the general's epaulettes. "We can imagine," says Mr. West, "the dismay of the other generals as the soldier obeyed."

"Now cut mine off," was the next order. The soldier did so. "Now put them on his shoulders."

It was the grand duke's playful little way of promoting Russky to the rank of adjutant general, the highest in the Russian army.

New Indigestible Dish.

Did you ever eat a knish? No. Then you have missed a good attack of indigestion and perhaps the undertaker. A knish is something like a dumpling, only infinitely more so. It is made up of dough, chopped potatoes, onions, cheese, kasha, butter, eggs "and other cereals," weighs a ton or less and costs five cents, normally. Since it became a war baby it costs four cents under certain conditions. It is the great piece of resistance on New York's eastside. Every store sells knishes, and the competition is so great that some of the merchants are giving coupons to buyers. A certain number of these coupons entitles the holder to a certificate and a back to Bellevue with ten knishes.

Gains Four Pounds in Three Hours. Raymond Tilton, twenty-one years old, performed the unusual feat of gaining four pounds of weight in less than three hours in order to become a soldier in the United States army, reports the Cincinnati Chronicle. Tilton, whose parents live in Richmond, Ky., desired to join the infantry, and he tipped the scale at 123 pounds, being three pounds shy. He was notified that the government is strict in regard to this matter, and was told to return when he acquired the necessary avoirdupois. Tilton invested in a 35-cent meal and imbibed freely of water. Then it was found that he had gained four pounds, one more than the government required. He was accepted.

What We Wish to Know.

An aged Frenchman, who has worked out a system for forecasting the weather, claims we are to have a succession of twenty-six very severe winters, commencing with the present one. If he can tell us how long the European war is to last, however, it will be of greater interest.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

NO JOB FOR AMATEUR DEITY

Could Perform Many Miracles, but Couldn't Drop Lead Pencil Without Breaking Point.

"What," asked the Maharajah of Nepal, "means all this turmoil I hear in the streets?"

"Most high son of the sun," replied the grand vizier, "it is the populace following one who calleth himself Buddha, and who goeth about performing miracles."

"Let him be brought in!" The palace guards brought in an old man, dressed in rags.

"Let the hippodrome proceed," said the maharajah.

The old man swallowed three cannon balls, climbed an invisible pole, rubbed the rheumatism out of a scullery maid's shoulders, removed a royal wart from the grand vizier's nose, took a six-year-old boy out of his pocket handkerchief, cut him into ten parts with a razor-edged scimitar, tossed the parts into the air, whence they vanished, and then produced the identical urchin, unharmed, from a fern pot in the bay window.

"Art Buddha?" asked the maharajah, without batting an eye.

"Thou beholdest," said the old man.

"Then," said the maharajah, "take thee this lead pencil and drop the same upon the floor. If the end break not then verily thou art Buddha."

The fakir shrieked his dismay, burst through the guards and did not stop this side of the deepest recess of the Himalayas.

The court crowded about the throne, praising their ruler's wisdom as that of Solomon.

The maharajah smiled. "Thus," he said, "have I unmasked already nineteen Buddhas."—Kansas City Star.

Colds Quickly Relieved.

Many people cough and cough—from the beginning of Fall right through to Spring. Others get cold after cold. Take Dr. King's New Discovery and you will get almost immediate relief. It checks your cold, stops the racking, rasping, tissue-tearing cough, heals the inflammation, soothes the raw tubes. Easy to take, Antiseptic and Healing. Get a 50c. bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and keep it in the house. "It is certainly a great medicine and I keep a bottle of it continually on hand," writes W. C. Jesseman, Franconia N. H. Money back if not satisfied but it nearly always helps.—Advertisement.

About Elizabeth. A teacher had a real problem on her hands to get the meaning contained in this note, received from the mother of one of her little pupils, who had been tardy: "Kindly allow me to ask you again and also to tell you that Elizabeth had to be tardy this morning and that Elizabeth will not be tardy again when impossible."—Boston Traveler.

For Your Child's Cough.

If your child has a cold, nose runs or coughs much get a small bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Its pleasant Pine-Tar-Honey syrup, just what children like and just the medicine to soothe the cough and check the cold. After taking, children stop retching, sleep good and are soon entirely well. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. 25c. at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

Where Vanilla Comes From.

Vanilla is the active principle which makes vanilla ice cream so popular. It occurs in the roots of oats and the leaves and roots of a number of plants. It has been found to be poisonous to clover, wheat, cornpeas and other plants.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Thousands rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Your druggist sells it 25c and 50c. Advertisement.

Franklin's Philosophy. "He that hath a trade hath an estate; and he that hath a calling hath a place of profit and honor. A plowman on his legs is higher than a gentleman on his knees."—Benjamin Franklin.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer

S. P. ROUSENBERRY

Dentist

Office Odd Fellows' Building, up stairs.

Cor. Ninth and Virginia, Between the depots.

Office hours: 8:45 a. m., to 3:20 p. m.

PHONE 165.

Breathitt, Allensworth & Breathitt

Attorneys-at-Law

Office: Bohm Building, Up Stairs. Front Court House.

Dr. G. P. Isbell

Veterinary Surgeon

Now located at my old stand, 7th and Railroad. TELEPHONE 470.

W. F. GARNETT & CO.

General Insurance Agents

We Solicit Your Patronage.

Hotel Latham Barber Shop

Fine Bath Rooms. Four First Class Artists.

FRANK BOYD, PROPR.

Dr. M. W. Rozzell

Specialist in Treatment of Trachoma, (Granular Lids) and all diseases

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

Spectacles—Eye Glasses
Office Phoenix Building Cor. 9th and Main. Hopkinsville, Ky.
Office Phone 645-1.

8 PER CENT. INVESTMENTS

For persons having money to invest we can get 8 per cent. secured by first mortgage on Christian county farm lands. This beats 3 per cent. nearly three to one, and just as well secured.

WALTER KELLY & CO.

REMEMBER

That we have every facility for turning out neat printing of all kinds. Letter heads, bill heads, office stationery, etc., furnished at the lowest prices first class work will permit.

CORRECT ENGLISH

HOW TO USE IT

Josephine Turek Baker, Editor

A MONTHLY MAGAZINE

For Progressive Men and Women, Business and Professional; Club-Women, Teachers, Students, Ministers, Doctors, Lawyers, Stenographers and for all who wish to Speak and Write Correct English.

Special Feature Every Month

Your Every-Day Vocabulary: HOW TO ENLARGE IT.

Sample Copy 10c.

Subscription Price $2 a Year.

EVANSTON, ILLINOIS

Josephine Turek Baker's Standard Magazine and 1 Book are recommended by this paper.

Buy a brand new Buggy

We have Good Harness
for you too

Take her for a drive in one of our handsome new Buggies.

When you buy a Buggy from us you get one that will last. Strong, seasoned woods, firmly put together go into our buggies. They are carefully painted so as not to crack.

We price our Buggies low.

Our harness is strong, looks good and lasts---and priced low.

Planters Hardware Co.
Incorporated.

Word and Works
REV. IRL R. HICKS'
MONTHLY MAGAZINE
... ALSO ...
COPY HICKS' ALMANAC FOR 1916.
... AND ...
HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN
All One Year For
$2.50

WANTED

WOOL, WOOL, WOOL,
100,000 POUNDS!

AT HIGHEST MARKET PRICES.

See, phone or write us for prices. We will furnish you with Sacks on request.

HAYDON PRODUCE CO.

Per HERBERT L. HAYDON, Manager.

East 9th St., Near L. & N. Depot, Hopkinsville, Ky.
PHONE NO. 26.

WIRE YOUR HOME FOR

Electric Lights
BAUGH ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLIES AND FIXTURES.

If Electric We Do It
Telephone 561-2

If you want business advertise

Pains All Over.

Houston, Tex.—“For five years,” says Mrs. L. Fulechek, of this place, “I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my house work. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all.” Cardui is a strength building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced, amongst its many users, confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time, Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it, today. Your druggist sells it.—Advertisement.

Feared Burial Alive.

To be buried alive was the greatest fear of a doctor who died recently at Kidderminster, England. It was found that he had instructed his trustees that his remains should be cremated five days after his death, but unless he died of some disease which necessitated it, his body should not be inclosed in a coffin during this period, and if so, he desired the trustees to personally ascertain that life was extinct, “my chief dread being lest by accident I may be cremated or otherwise disposed of while I am still alive,” and he directed his trustees to carry out his wishes concerning his cremation and burial as contained in a sealed letter given to them respectively in his lifetime.

An Ideal Spring Laxative.

A good and time tried remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. The first dose will move the sluggish bowels, stimulate the liver and clear the system of waste and blood impurities. You owe it to yourself to clear the system of body poisons, accumulated during the winter. Dr. King's New Life Pills will do it. 25c. at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

Time Card

Effective April 10, 1916.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

No. 93—C. & N. O. Lim. 11:56 p. m.
No. 51—St. L. Express 5:29 p. m.
No. 95—Dixie Flyer 9:35 a. m.
No. 55—Hopkinsville Ac. 7:00 a. m.
No. 53—St. L. Fast Mail 5:36 a. m.

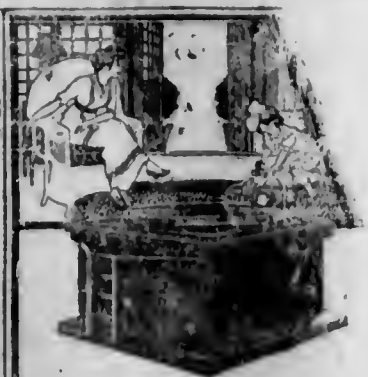

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

No. 92—C. & St. L. Lim. 5:29 a. m.
No. 52—St. Louis Express 9:55 a. m.
No. 94—Dixie Flyer 7:02 p. m.
No. 56—Hopkinsville Ac. 8:55 p. m.
No. 54—St. L. Fast Mail 10:16 p. m.
No. 51 connects at Guthrie for Memphis and points as far south as Erin, and for Louisville, Cincinnati and the East.

Nos. 53 and 55 make direct connection at Guthrie for Louisville, Cincinnati and all points north and east thereof.

No. 93 carries through sleepers to Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, and Tampa, Fla. Also Pullman sleepers to New Orleans. Connect at Guthrie for points East and West. No. 93 will not carry local passengers for points north of Nashville, Tenn.

J. C. HOOE, Agt.

Victrola VI, $25
Other styles $15 to $200

You are never at a loss for entertainment when there is a Victrola
in your home.

It enables you to hear the world's best music whenever and as often as you wish.

Come in and we'll demonstrate the Victrola and play any music you wish to hear. We'll explain our system of easy terms, too.

Cook's Drug Store

Sole Distributors

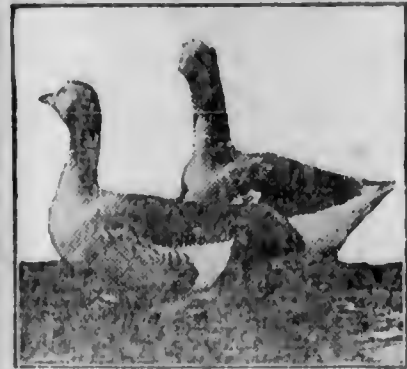

9th and Main Streets.

PROBLEM OF RAISING GEES

Goosings Should Have Tender Grass to Eat From Start—Mashes Should Be Dampened Slightly.

Goose eggs may be hatched under geese or hens, putting from four to six under the latter and eight to ten under a goose. They require about 30 days to hatch. Goslings should have tender grass to eat from the first. Give them a mash of bran, cornmeal and any other ground grains that are fed to chickens. Roasted oats, whole or in parts, make best feed for the first few days. All mash should be dampened slightly.

Toulouse Geese.

Be sure to not allow any lumps of salt to get in. Give the goslings plenty of exercise and room on account of leg weakness. When two months old give them whole grain. Those intended for table use should be confined in restricted quarters for about two weeks before killing and all the cornmeal or corn moistened they can eat.

TREATING ROUP AMONG HENS

Where Fowls Are Badly Affected Ax Is Best Means of Procedure—Also Late Valuable Birds.

If fowls are badly affected with roup the use of the ax is the best means of procedure. Roup is contagious and must be eliminated from the flock at all costs.

If some of the fowls are especially valuable, they may be isolated from the rest of the flock and their heads dipped in a solution of potassium permanganate, made by adding a quarter teaspoonful of the commercial mixture to two quarts of hot water. The operation is repeated three times daily.

As a preventive enough potassium permanganate is added to the drinking water of the flock to turn it cherry red.

VALUE OF POULTRY MANURE

Worth Is Placed at Not Less Than $5 and Up to $8 Per Ton by Some of Experiment Stations.

If the average farmer realized the great value placed on poultry manure by some of the largest experimental stations in the United States, he would be more careful in the gathering, storing and proper distribution of same over his land.

It is claimed that average poultry manure consists as follows: Water, 66 per cent; nitrogen, 2 to 3 per cent; phosphoric acid, 2 to 5 per cent; potash, 8 to 10 per cent. This analysis would place the value of every ton of poultry manure at not less than $5 and up to $8.

PREVENTION OF FROST-BITE

Difficult Matter to Keep Long Wattles of Males From Getting Wet—Treat With Vaseline.

Even in well-ventilated, comfortable houses, it is difficult to keep the long wattles of the males from getting wet and freezing. A good preventive is to keep the comb and wattles greased with vaseline.

If the mischief is already done, do not take the bird to a warm room until the frost is out. Apply cold water, or snow, handling very gently, and when the parts are of normal size, apply mutton tallow, or comphor ice.

Big Returns From Capons.

The capon is gladdening the palate and pocketbook of the chicken raiser who had foresight enough to caponize instead of letting the matter go.

Estimate Cost of Keep.

In estimating the cost of keeping poultry it is best to allow one bushel of grain a year for each laying hen.

Dust Bath and Powder.

Keep the hens supplied with a dust bath, and a little fusel powder mixed with the dust will have its good effect.

Have Charcoal Handy.

A box of charcoal should be kept where the chickens can get at it.

Quarrelsome Cocks a Nuisance.
Quarrelsome cocks are a nuisance on the farm or in the poultry yard.

Latest Offer!

KENTUCKIAN, Tri-Weekly, one year
Daily Evening Post, . . . one year
Home and Farm . . . one year

Kentucky Governors Wall Map, delivered charges prepaid,

All For Only
$4.25

The Wall Map is the only complete collection of portraits of the Governors of the State of Kentucky, including term of office and date of birth and death under each Governor's portrait, from Isaac Shelby to A. Owsley Stanley.

SEND ALL ORDERS TO THE

KENTUCKIAN, Hopkinsville, Ky.

CITY BANK & TRUST CO.

Capital Stock - - $ 60,000.00
Surplus Every dollar of which was earned - - 100,000.00
Deposits - - Over one-half Million Dividends for past 3 years 15 Per Cent

The continued successful career of this Bank commends itself to the Public as A SAFE DEPOSITORY.

Corn Feed For Young Hogs IS WASTED!

Write the Experiment Station at Lexington for advice. In the meantime save money by Feeding

Supreme Hog Feed

The Acme Mills

INCORPORATED.

SEE

McClaid & Armstrong

DEALERS IN

GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS
CUT STONE OF ALL KINDS

Marble Yards and Office N. Main Street, Between 1st and 2nd Sts.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Cumb. Telephone 490.

For Nice Job Work Come Here

RESIDENCE IS DAMAGED

Mr. McGowan Suffers Loss
by Fire Saturday Night.

The roof of Mr. J. D. McGowan's residence on East Ninth street was damaged by fire Saturday night. The flames are supposed to have originated from a spark. The loss is small and is covered by insurance.

When you want fire, tornado, life or bond insurance in the Oldest Strongest Companies see H. D. WALLACE, office up stairs, over Anderson-Fowler Drug Store, Corner Ninth and Main.

Office 305, reside. 644.

MYSTERY SOLVED

"Isn't it too bad our dreams don't materialize?"

"Some do. I know a man who had an awful nightmare, wrote it out the next morning, and sold it for a musical comedy."

CHANCE ELIMINATED.

"Do you play cards?"

"No," replied Broncho Bob. "I used to, but I quit."

"Is there no gambling in Crimmon Gulch?"

"No. A lot of sure-thing sharps took possession of the games, and there ain't such a thing as what you'd call a real gamble any more."

WOMEN, LOVELY WOMEN.

Mrs. Dash—Tom and I were married in haste, you know.

Mrs. Nash—Well, you ought to be thankful that such was the case.

Mrs. Dash—Why, pray?

Mrs. Nash—If Tom had taken time to think it over you would probably be single yet.

NATURAL BARRIER.

"What's the trouble with your antikissing crusade?"

"The public just won't set their faces against it."

Time to sack your hams. Big supply for sale at this office.

LADIES!

This is the Store For Everything You Wear.

Redfern Corsets,
Warner Corsets,
Underwear,
Hose, Gloves, Coat Suits,
Dresses,
Millinery,
Rain Coats,
Kimonas.

Everything Ready Made

J. T. Edwards Co.
INCORPORATED

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

FEEDING THE YOUNG TURKEY

Breeder Should Remember, First of All, Never to Overfeed and Never Give Anything Spoiled.

In feeding small turkeys, remember never to overfeed, and never to feed anything the least spoiled. Feed often but very little at a time. Provide grit and charcoal. Feed plenty of sour milk in addition to fresh drinking water. Mix a little wheat bran and middlings with the cornmeal, moisten this a very little with sour milk and feed sparingly in low rim pie tins. In addition feed very sparingly of a little grain mixture as follows: Equal parts of lime, cracked, untainted, thoroughly dried corn and wheat. Pinhead oatmeal and a little millet are also very good.

Trio of Fine Gobblers.

Green food in the form of finely sliced onion tops are very good, but must indeed be fed very sparingly.

Keep the turkeys cool, and above all, free from lice and in clean surroundings. Do not allow them to stroll through long grass early in the morning, thus becoming exhausted and wet.

FEEDING MILK TO CHICKENS

Has Most Favorable Influence on Growth and Lessening of Mortality Average Among Flocks.

The feeding of milk to young chicks has a most favorable influence on the growth, and on lessening the mortality average.

Sweet and sour milk are of equal value in chick feeding. The degree of sourness does not affect the nutritive value.

Chicks fed milk freely should have abundant exercise. This applies particularly to early hatched or brooder chicks.

In no way is milk injurious, but whether you feed sweet or sour milk, the same should be fed continually until the end of the milk feeding period. Whichever is most convenient adhere to consistently.

SPROUTED OATS FOR WINTER

Excellent Green Food for Chickens During Cold Weather—How the Trick Is Performed.

Sprouted oats have proved an excellent feed for chickens during winter months. The oats may be sprouted in a regular sprouter, in trays by the kitchen stove, in the cellar, on dirt or on burlap. The trick is to soak the oats with water, spread them out in the light and keep them warm and moist until the blades are from three to six inches long.

A successful feeder soaks the oats for 24 hours, spreads them in a shallow box and places it in the cellar. Frequently an inch or more of sand is placed in the bottom of the box upon which the oats are spread.

Watch Fowls Closely.

Watch your flocks closely. It often happens that when mated up, the male is not popular—at least not generally. It is a common thing to notice some females that persistently and successfully avoid the male placed with them, and a change to another pen and male produce a marked difference. If there are such cases in your yards, try the changing method.

Don't Doctor Sick Fowls.

As a general rule it does not pay to doctor sick fowls and it is much better practice to prevent disease than to cure it.

Easy Flock to Manage.

On the average farm a flock of 100 to 150 hens is more easily managed profitably than one of a thousand.

Pigeon Terms.

At a day old pigeons are known as "peepers;" at ten days old, "squakers;" and at three weeks old, "squealers."

Small Flocks Pay Best.

Fowls are said to give the greatest profits when run in small flocks of 50 or not more than 100.

SHAKESPEARE BACON'S DISGUISE

Chicago Court Legally Ends
the Controversy Over Which Scholars Fought.

BILATERAL CIPHER O. K.

By It Judge Tuthill Proves
Bard of Avon Never Wrote
His Immortal Works.

Chicago, April 24.—Francis Bacon used the name of William Shakespeare as a disguise and was the author of all the plays attributed to Shakespeare, according to a decision rendered in an injunction suit in the circuit court here by Judge Richard S. Tuthill. An injunction is issued on the petition of William N. Selig motion picture manufacturer, to restrain George Fabyan and others from publishing books in support of the Baconian theory was dissolved. Judge Tuthill, in his decision said:

"That William Shakespeare was born Apr. 23, 1564; that he went to London about 1586 or 1587; for a time thereafter, he made his living working for Burbage; that he later became an actor in Burbage's theater and in traveling theatrical companies; that he retired about 1609 or 1610 to live in Stratford-on-Avon, where he engaged in business to the time of his death on Apr. 25, 1616, and that Shakespeare was not an educated person, are allegations which the court finds true.

BACON A NOTED SCHOLAR.

"The court further finds that Francis Bacon was born Jan. 26, 1570; that he was educated not only in English but in French, Latin, Italian, German and had an education equal to or superior to any one of his age; that he was the compiler of a book of 1,560 axioms and phrases selected from the greatest authors and books of all time; that in his youth literary people were frowned upon. In Paris literary people were in the favor of the reigning powers and literature was having a renaissance. Bacon went to Paris in his early youth and spent several years in this atmosphere.

"The court takes judicial notice of historical fact and facts well known and finds that there has been for sixty years a controversy over the authorship of certain works which were published shortly after the death of Shakespeare and attributed to Shakespeare; that the question always has been an open question among scholars of equal authority and standing in the world of letters, literature and knowledge as to the authorship of the above mentioned works, and that a vast bibliography, estimated by those who are in a position to know at 20,000 volumes, has been written in discussion of the vexed question.

BILATERAL CIPHER PROVES CASE.

"The court further finds that by the published and acknowledged works of Francis Bacon, there is given a cipher which Bacon devised in his youth when in Paris, called the bilateral cipher; that the witness, Elizabeth Wells Gallup, has applied that cipher, according to the directions left by Francis Bacon and has found that the name and character of Shakespeare were used as a mask by Francis Bacon to publish philosophical facts, stories and statements contributing to the literary renaissance in England which has been the glory of the world.

"The court further finds that the claim of the friends of Francis Bacon that he is the author of said works of Shakespeare and the facts and circumstances in the real bibliography of the controversy over the question of authority and proofs submitted herein, convinced the court that Francis Bacon is the author."

Mr. Selig alleged that the publication of the book tending to prove that Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays would injure him in his project of making moving pictures of plays commonly attributed to Shakespeare.

Struck It Rich.

S. A. Anderson, a negro elevator man at Paducah, 10 years ago paid $500 for 195 acres of land in Texas upon which oil has been found and has refused $500,000 for it. It is supposed to be worth $2,000,000.

HAM SACKS for sale at this office

Such tobacco enjoyment

as you never thought could be is yours to command quick as you buy some Prince Albert and fire-up a pipe or a home-made cigarette!

Prince Albert gives you every tobacco satisfaction your smoke-appetite ever hankered for. That's because it's made by a patented process that cuts out bite and parch! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippyred bags, 5c; tippyred tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Winning Husbands.

The new problem, "How to Find a Husband after the War," is receiving much attention on the other side of the water. A noted French authoress recently wrote a book on the subject. The Italian periodical, "Piccolo," is devoting a column regularly to discussion along this line, and finds the public tremendously interested.

The women who face the prospect of a limited husband supply, because of the war losses, are getting all sorts of more or less useful advice. Some of the advisers suggest a general female migration to America, where there are plenty of men. Some urge girls to avoid the new freedom and self-confidence that has come to so many women because of their assumption of men's work during the war. More than ever, they say, men will admire the old, trustful, modest and obedient feminine type. One wise old lady issues a solemn warning against frivolity. Of all things, she says, that is what the war veteran, sobered by his hard experience, will not tolerate.

Another quotes the counsel given by the old Arab Sidi Ahmed Ben Arun, to his daughter when she was about to be married. The wife, he said, "must be as earth under the feet of her husband; appear to obey him in all things; never offend his vanity, or his ears with two much talking; and never contradict him. So she shall be both master and mistress in her house."

This last bit of advice may be all right for European women, but it isn't likely to find acceptance in this country. Not that American men are much different from other males in their fondness for imagining themselves lords of their own households—but the American girl isn't built that way. She isn't strong for pretended humility. She prefers to do her bossing directly, without making any bones about it.—Owensboro Messenger.

Men of Genius Used "Dope."

Some of the most brilliant writers have been known as victims of insidious drugs. Thomas de Quincey confessed to opium in one of the most remarkable of all confessions. His friend, Coleridge, was more secretive. That brilliant youth, Thomas Chatterton, starved and "doped" and died at eighteen years. Christopher Marlowe died a miserable death from "dope" and debauch, and even the "Swan of Avon" has been suspected, these and a long list of other great ones having given evidence in their writings by indirect confession of a want of "tired nature's sweet restorer."

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Longest Railroad.

The longest continuous train service route in the world will be the culmination of steps now being taken at Paducah, Ky., to connect the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway with the Burlington route, thereby forming a through service between Seattle, Washington, and Jacksonville, Fla.

This route will enable these roads and their connections to handle business from the great northwest to the southeast, and already traffic officials are working on a schedule which will be one of the fastest in the country, distance considered.

This connection will be completed when the construction of the new $6,000,000 bridge across the Ohio river at Metropolis, Ill., by the Paducah & Illinois Railroad Company, which company is owned and operated by the Burlington and the N. C. & St. L.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Real Need.

"Do you believe that we should have a more elastic currency?" asked the man who is always talking national finance. "Not much!" snorted the man with the shiny clothes. "It's elastic enough now. What they ought to do is make it more adhesive."

DR. BEAZLEY Specialist

(Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.)

School Principal Resigns.

Guthrie, Ky., April 24.—J. R. Claypool, principal of the Guthrie grade school, has tendered his resignation to take effect at the close of the present term.

Mr. Claypool has been connected with the Guthrie school for the past three years. During his first year here he was assistant principal and for the last two years he has been principal. His association with the school and people of Guthrie has been very pleasant and it is with regret that his resignation is accepted. Mr. Claypool leaves Guthrie to enter a larger and better field to work.

Where the Plan Failed.

A white man walking along a road where an old colored man was whitewashing a fence noticed that the brush he was using contained very few bristles. "Look here, Rastus," exclaimed the man, pausing and looking at the operation, "why don't you get a brush with more bristles in it?" "What fo', Mistah Smith, what fo'?" returned Rastus, glancing from the fence to his questioner. "What for?" expressively replied Mr. Smith. "Why, if you had a brush with more bristles in it you could do twice as much work." "Dat's all right, Mistah Smith," said Rastus, negatively shaking his head, "but I haven't got twice as much work to do."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Chili recently had an exhibition of Japanese products.

MULES WANTED

— WILL BE IN —

HOPKINSVILLE, MONDAY, MAY 1
AT LEAVELL'S STABLE
To buy Mules from 3 to 20 years old, 14 to 16 hands high. Bring us your Mules and get the cash.

Harry Barnett & Co.